

5,289 Enter City Schools At Opening

Larger Enrollment Seen Later; 3 Of Classes Crowded

An enrollment of 5,289 pupils was recorded in East Liverpool schools this morning as classes began for the 1959-60 term.

The opening day figure, expected to be boosted slightly during the next week, is 11 less than enrolled for the first day in the 1958 term.

Although the opening went smoothly, some adjustments will probably be made at three buildings where three classes are crowded, Supt. Ralph W. Betts said.

Betts said some changes probably will be necessary in the sixth grade classes at Pleasant Heights and Horace Mann and the fifth grade class at McKinley.

The total elementary enrollment today was 2,997 with an additional 1,313 students in two junior high schools and 979 in the senior high school.

A breakdown of the elementary enrollment by buildings shows:

Garfield, 194; Glenmoor, 209; Horace Mann, 319; Klondyke, 78; LaCroft, 231; Lincoln, 320; McKinley, 273; Neville, 179; Pleasant Heights, 207; Taft, 212, and Westgate elementary, 738.

Westgate Junior High reported 958 students while East Junior High recorded 355. In addition, there are 37 enrolled in 3 classes in special education. The classes include 15 at Garfield and 11 each at Klondyke and Pleasant Heights.

The enrollment figures, by grades, are:

First, 531; second, 527; third, 462; fourth, 421; fifth, 493; sixth, 526; seventh, 502; eighth, 428; freshmen, 383; sophomores, 354; juniors, 338, and seniors, 287.

The St. Aloysius Parochial School opens Sept. 8.

Wellsville Students Estimated At 1,900

An estimated 1,900 students reported for classes today at Wellsville for the opening of the new term.

Supt. S. E. Daw said the exact number will not be known until Wednesday morning, following a complete tabulation.

The students attended an abbreviated version of classes this morning and were dismissed at noon. Teachers' meetings started at 1:30 p. m.

Daw said some classes were reported overcrowded and in some the enrollment was light. These situations will be remedied by transfers.

Daw said all was reported running smoothly. The attendance last year was about 1,740 but the Fairview School at Hillcrest has become a part of the Wellsville system, adding at least 190.

Beaver Local Opens With 2,084 Students

Beaver Local School district counted 2,084 students this morning, but officials expected more to arrive.

Board Names Voting Staffs

912 Of Both Parties To Aid In Precincts

The Columbiana County Election Board today appointed 912 men and women to serve as judges and clerks in its 152 precinct polling places at the Nov. 3 general election and the May 1960 primaries.

Six persons were named—three from each major political party—to serve in each voting place.

The action was taken as the board put preparations in high gear for the November election. It has sent requests to boards of education and municipal officials asking the use of public buildings as polling places. At the same time, contracts have been mailed to owners of homes and other private buildings rented as voting sites. Village clerks and city auditors have been requested to cooperate in locating voting places.

The Dodge Publishing Co. of Salem, contractor, today delivered the first printers' proofs on ballots which it is furnishing for the fall election. The board's staff is working on proof-reading the first group, including the office type ballot for cities and villages and non-partisan ballots for other villages.

In addition to the staff, members of the Election Board are checking the proofs for typographical errors and copies were forwarded to party chairmen, as state law requires.

Tour, Luncheon Held

New Area Teachers Feted

Some 25 new teachers in the East Liverpool and Beaver Local school systems were welcomed to the city officially and received a quick glimpse of East Liverpool during a "break" in teachers' meetings Monday.

The program was arranged by the Chamber of Commerce and the East Liverpool Teachers Association.

Chatting before the luncheon program at the Travelers Hotel were Austin Moore, ELTA president; Edwin Maloney, chairman of the Chamber's public education committee, which arranged the program; Mary Underwood and Carol Hand, new ELHS instructors, and Chester Urbschat, a new Beaver Local High School teacher.

T. Fred Edwards, Chamber president, officially welcomed the new teachers on behalf of the Chamber following the luncheon. Maloney presided.

Moore responded on behalf of the teachers and the new instructors introduced themselves. The invocation was given by the Rev. M. Rudolph Miller of the Trinity United Presbyterian Church.

Edwards also introduced other Chamber members who participated in the program. They included C. Walter Ashbaugh, J. M. Nicely, James A. Reaney, James Locke, Alvin Bobb, Eugene Hall, Bertram Wakefield and E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager.

The Chamber members assisted in a coffee break following the general teachers' meeting at Westgate School where the group was joined by the new Beaver Local instructors.

An auto caravan through the city gave the instructors a view of various parts of the city.

Starting from Westgate, the tour passed City Hospital and then crossed the Newell Bridge and went up the Chester - Newell Rd. to the Chester bridge and returned to the city, passing the High School, Carnegie Public Library and Post Office.

The caravan continued up St. Clair Ave. to Smithfield St. for an overall view of the city and then swung past Park Blvd. and through Thompson Park to Dixieville and then down Park Way to the East End. The cars traveled back to the downtown area over the Pennsylvania Ave. "Hill Rd." and then passed the business district before stopping at the hotel.

Following the luncheon program, the teachers were returned to their buildings.

The autos for the caravan were furnished by members of The East Liverpool Auto Dealers Association, including Arb Motors, Mackall Motors, M. & A. Motors, Central Service, Carroll Motor Sales, Mike Turk, Inc., and Litten Motors.

No Violence Reported At Dixie Schools

Integration Starts In Several Cities; Others Due Later

By The Associated Press
School integration has started in several Southern cities without the violence which marked the opening of classes in some sections in the past.

An increasing number of Negro youngsters are trudging off to integrated schools. They are expected to be joined by others later this week and next.

The changes are mostly in the upper and border states. Alabama, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and South Carolina are holding firm to traditional separate schools for white children and Negroes.

Potential trouble at the Dollarway School District near Pine Bluff, Ark., has been postponed temporarily. The Sept. 8 opening date was put off until after a hearing Sept. 21 in St. Louis on an appeal from an integration order by a federal judge.

The advance of at least token integration in many parts of Dixie has been accompanied by a barrage of law suits. In Virginia the massive resistance pattern appears to have been replaced by a policy of maximum containment.

Integrated schools open in several cities today including Arlington, Va., and Nashville, Tenn. Classes also start at the previously all-white elementary school at Sturgis, Ky., where 44 Negro children registered Monday under a federal court order to integrate all Union County elementary schools.

Eleven Negro children are attending classes with white pupils at Havelock, a coastal North Carolina community where integration began Friday. No incidents have been reported.

Most public schools opened in Alabama and Georgia Monday. No attempts at integration were reported in either state. The Atlanta School Board is under federal court order to submit a desegregation plan by Dec. 1.

At Birmingham, Ala., wooden crosses were burned Monday night near ten white schools.

Narrowly Escape Death
PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—King Suramarit and his queen narrowly escaped death Monday night when a bomb disguised as a gift went off at the royal palace. Three of the palace staff were killed and three others injured.

Strike Threat Reported In Rail Industry

WASHINGTON (AP)—A threat of a strike by 600,000 clerks and maintenance workers looms for the nation's railroads.

The strike could come Nov. 2 if the railroads and 11 unions do not change their present stands. The unions, representing those rail workers who do not actually operate the trains, Monday night announced a joint demand on the railroad industry. They want a 25-cent hourly pay boost and an increase in welfare benefits equivalent to seven cents an hour. The average worker now makes $2.30 an hour.

When the unions earlier asked for holiday and vacation improvements, the railroads responded by proposing a five-cent hourly pay cut.

George E. Leighty, spokesman for the unions, said the strike probably will take place Nov. 2 if the railroads continue to insist that the present three-year contracts extend beyond Nov. 1.

Leighty said, a strike might come in mid-January, after mediation is exhausted. Mediation steps are compulsory under the Railway Labor Act.

Railroad industry spokesmen declined comment.

Ike May Stop In Scotland Several Days

LONDON (AP)—President Eisenhower probably will stop over in Scotland for several days after visiting President Charles de Gaulle in Paris, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty said tonight.

Hagerty told a news conference there will be no new discussions with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan if the President does decide to stop in Scotland.

It is the President's intention, if he does return, to stay at his own private apartment in Culzean Castle, Ayrshire.

The 16-room apartment was given to Eisenhower by the Scots in gratitude for the part he played during World War II in saving Britain from invasion, and in the defeat of the Nazis.

Eisenhower flies to Paris Wednesday and would return Friday in the event he decides to stop over. He will play some golf if he returns, Hagerty said.

Accord Eyed By Conferees On Labor Bill

Agreement Sought Without Fight On Senate Floor Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate House labor bill conferees meet again today with renewed hopes for agreement without a Senate floor fight.

Both sides appeared wary of opening a full-dress labor debate on the Senate floor and anxious instead to try to settle the issues in the conference meeting for the 11th day.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who had threatened to bring the controversy to the Senate floor, held off on this move.

Senate Democrats fighting for modifications in the House-passed Landrum-Griffin bill leaned on an unusual ally, Republican Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, in the battle over one of the most heavily disputed points.

The hard bargaining in the conference appeared to have left two really hard nuts to crack.

1. Whether unrestricted picketing at a construction project should be exempt from the general ban on secondary boycotts.

2. Whether unrestricted organizational picketing should be allowed if the employer involved is guilty of an unfair labor practice.

The four Senate Democratic conferees are fighting for the first point. So far there has been no sign of give from the House.

Late Monday, Mitchell sent a telegram to an AFL-CIO official asserting the administration still favored such an exemption. President Eisenhower asked for it in his labor message in January.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) heading the Senate conferees majority, hailed this as demonstration of the administration's support.

Khrushchev To Bring His Family To U.S.

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is putting the emphasis on peace and culture in selecting the traveling companions for his trip to the United States next month. He is leaving behind all military and technical advisers.

At the invitation of President Eisenhower, the Soviet Premier also is taking his family with him to the United States—his wife Nina, son Sergei and two daughters, Julia and Rada.

In Triumphant Tour Ike's Bid To Thaw Cold War Reported As Bringing Results

Ike Warns Of Special Fall Session

Will Call Congress Back If It Fails To Lift Bonds Interest

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has told Republican leaders he may call Congress back into special session this fall if it fails to lift the interest ceiling on government bonds.

The President also has made it clear to the party chieftains he will consider such a session call if Congress cuts foreign aid funds below what he regards as a minimum level for national security.

The possibility of presidential action came to light as leaders of both parties gave up hope of winding up the current session this week.

Democratic strategists were setting Sept. 12 as the earliest possible date for an adjournment—without any action on the interest rate issue. Republicans were saying that Congress may still be in session when Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrives Sept. 15.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois took pains Monday to squash a proposal by Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.) that Congress recess before Khrushchev's arrival and come back in October.

Eisenhower's concern over the interest rate matter was emphasized when Treasury officials urged Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) of the Senate Finance Committee to seek action to lift the ceiling.

Because the House originates such bills, Byrd has felt his hands are tied. He could offer the proposal as an amendment to a House-passed bill but there is almost no chance the House would accept it.

Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson apparently is hopeful Congress eventually will agree to take the interest ceiling off all government bonds. Savings bonds pay 3 1/4 per cent. The present limit on bonds maturing after five years is 4 1/4 per cent. These are too low to attract heavy investments, and the Treasury is forced to pay higher rates on short-term borrowing.

Eisenhower's worries over any congressional cuts in foreign aid funds are reported to have been heightened by recent Communist guerrilla fighting in Laos.

The Democratic-dominated Congress appears disposed, however, to whack the foreign aid total substantially below the $3,900,000,000 Eisenhower asked.

Officials of the State Highway Department and Michael Baker Jr., Inc., of Rochester, the consulting engineering firm which is preparing plans, are scheduled to arrive in East Liverpool about 2 this afternoon to inspect the proposed site of an overpass on which a new California Hollow-West End freeway will cross the four-lane section of W. 8th St.

Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, who announced plans for the routine inspection, said the delegation may include officials of the Federal Bureau of Public Roads. The federal government is scheduled to join the state in paying the major share of the four-lane freeway's construction cost. The inspection is one of a series by the state and federal officials as part of the routine of approving plans, the mayor said.

U.S. Sifts Lama Bid

WASHINGTON (AP)—An appeal by the Dalai Lama for United Nations study of Red China's aggression in Tibet is receiving "immediate and sympathetic consideration" from the United States, the State Department said Monday.

In Row With Menon

New Crisis Grips India As Military Chiefs Quit Posts

NEW DELHI (AP)—India, beset by Red Chinese aggressive moves, was thrown into crisis today by reports that the heads of all three of India's military services were resigning in a row with Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon.

Top governing Congress party leaders in Parliament said they had heard Menon had given Prime Minister Nehru a letter containing his own resignation and giving Nehru a free hand to deal with the situation.

The report of the resignations of the service chiefs was carried by a newspaper.

There was no immediate official confirmation of either report.

Some Indian newspapers demanded some weeks ago that the controversial Menon resign because he had not spoken out against Communist Chinese actions in bloodily suppressing the Tibetan revolt. He often has been accused of taking a soft approach to communism.

The speaker of the lower house refused to permit debate on the report until Prime Minister Nehru could be present. Nehru went to the airport today for a brief meeting with Pakistan President Mohammed Ayub Khan. Although Menon was in Parliament, he refused to say if the report were true.

Members complained angrily that the report was causing anxiety throughout the nation, coming as it did when Chinese Communist troops are trespassing on territory claimed by India along the remote, uninhabited frontier with Tibet.

The sensational report of the resignations was published by the (Turn to INDIA, Page 7)

Hope Voiced Rubber Pact Assists Steel

CLEVELAND (AP)—The international president of the United Rubber Workers Union voiced hope today agreement on a 10-cent hourly wage increase for Goodyear Tire Rubber Co.'s 24,000 employees could provide a "degree of assistance" to deadlocked steel negotiators.

Goodyear and URW negotiators agreed on the wage settlement Monday night just four hours before a midnight deadline. It was the first wage agreement in a major industry since the nationwide steel strike of 500,000 workers started July 15. The head of the rubber union, L. S. Buckmaster, said:

"We hope this settlement will bring about settlements with the other major rubber companies, and we also hope that it may be of some degree of assistance in bringing about a fair and equitable settlement in the steel industry."

The Goodyear agreement, negotiated as part of a wage reopening clause in a master contract signed last April, must be ratified by a majority of union locals in 11 cities and a majority of the membership. Ratification meetings will be held within 10 days.

Goodyear workers currently earn $2.61 in straight time hourly wages. A wage pattern in the industry is expected to stem from the Goodyear agreement. Wage talks now are underway between the union and the U.S. Rubber Co. in Cincinnati, with B. F. Goodrich in Canton and with the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. here.

Goodyear was the only one of the industry's big four companies that did not experience a strike last spring when 58,000 workers in 31 cities and 16 states joined in walkouts lasting up to two months. Involved then were disputes over pension programs and other fringe benefits in master contracts. Wages were not an issue.

Globe Plant, Brick Union Avert Strike

Contract Extended Indefinitely With 10-Day Notice Set

The Globe Brick Co. of Newell and Local 647 of the United Brick & Clay Workers reached an agreement to extend the present contract at a parley Monday afternoon, thus averting a strike.

The contract was to have expired at midnight Monday. The extension agreement is for an indefinite period and contains a clause allowing either party to terminate the contract after a 10-day notice.

Winston Porter, president of the firm, said no further meetings have been set but that negotiations will continue in the future.

Some 235-250 men at the plant are members of Local 647.

Salem's Bliss Plant Struck With 350 Idle

SALEM — Local 3372 of the United Steelworkers at the E. W. Bliss Co. plant turned down a company offer of a contract extension, causing a shutdown of the plant at midnight and idling almost 350 workers.

The agreement between Bliss and the Salem local expired at midnight. Representatives of the company and the workers met until that time without progress.

The Canton office said the firm offered the local an extension agreement which would provide basic steel wage increases retroactive to Sept. 1 and fringe benefits comparable to those granted basic steel.

Wellsville Gambling Figure Forfeits $500

A Wellsville man forfeited a $500 bond when he failed to appear Monday before Mayor William J. Shoub of Wellsville for possession of gambling equipment.

Frank E. Geisse of Chester Ave. posted the bond following his arrest yesterday morning at the 4th St. Recreation, 361 Main St.

Police Chief John Hephner made the raid. He said he found a roulette wheel stored at the establishment. No gambling was going on, Hephner said.

Geisse holds a federal gambling stamp, the only one in Columbiana County, according to the Internal Revenue Department.

Both Sides Voice Sign Of Success

Khrushchev Makes Unusual Declaration Of Trust In Chief

LONDON (AP)—President Eisenhower took a rest from diplomacy today, his European tour so far a triumph both politically and personally.

From both sides of the Iron Curtain came signs that Eisenhower's mission to thaw the ice of the cold war was bringing results.

In Germany Chancellor Konrad Adenauer made an unexpected gesture of conciliation and friendship to Poland, largest of the East European Communist satellites.

The crusty German leader broadcast a message of peace and friendship to the Poles on the eve of the 20th anniversary of Hitler's attack on Poland. Adenauer apologized for the Nazi act.

In the Soviet Union, Premier Nikita Khrushchev made an unusual declaration of trust in Eisenhower.

"The President of the United States realizes the main thing now is to ensure peace," Khrushchev said. "In this we have no differences."

In Britain, Eisenhower's initiative on the peace front coupled with his vigorous appearance apparently had removed fears that America was fumbling the free world's leadership.

His talks with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan over except for social meetings, the President planned to spend today on routine White House business which has piled up since he left Washington last week.

A personal high spot of Eisenhower's tour comes tonight, when he plays host at a stag dinner for British military leaders and statesmen who were his associates in World War II.

Among the guests at Winfield House, the U.S. ambassadorial residence where Eisenhower is staying, will be Macmillan, Sir Winston Churchill, and Field Marshals Montgomery and Alanbrooke. Both of the latter had critical things to say about Eisenhower's military ability in recent memoirs.

The new note of warmth in West Germany's approach to the Communist East was attributed in part at least to Eisenhower's influence.

In talking with Adenauer in Bonn last week, the President urged a forward looking approach in dealing with the Communists.

Eisenhower and Macmillan ended their talks with a fireside chat before the TV cameras, something

Milder Temperatures Continue Wednesday

What a difference a few degrees make! Milder temperatures, as contrasted to heat wave readings, will continue through Wednesday in the East Liverpool area.

The Ohio weatherman forecast a high of only 77 to 82 degrees today and a night's low of 62 to 67. Dam 8 reported a high of 89 degrees Monday as another step down from the low 90's that had marked the late but not lamented heat wave.

There was some humidity today, however, but nothing like that of the past two weeks. There is a chance of showers.

On another front of nature, thousands of green winged insects resembling gnats swarmed through the business district last night and this morning, their bodies covered tops and hoods of parked cars.

Day War Came-Sept. 1, 1939

Germans Sensed Hitler's War Move

By EDWIN SHANKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Berliners awoke early on the morning of Sept. 1, 1939, to the blare of brass military marches on their radios instead of gay waltzes and soft symphonies.

"They've marched, haven't they?" my German landlady asked anxiously.

In a moment she had her answer.

Fanfares burst forth on the radio. A solemn-voiced announcer read Adolf Hitler's order of the day to his army, air force and navy to "meet force with force."

Hours earlier, while the Poles slept, Nazi armored columns and the Luftwaffe had struck at Poland.

"The world war took my husband," my landlady said. "I'm afraid this one will take my war baby."

For weeks, Germans sensed that Hitler intended to go to war. The Nazi propaganda machine, steadily building up a series of alleged frontier incidents, had seen to that. But at the same time, most Germans had hoped the war tension would all end in another of Hitler's diplomatic blitzes—as in the case of the Rhineland, Austria, Sudetenland, Czechoslovakia and Memel.

The hope was shattered on that sunny, late summer day.

Later that morning, I went to the Kroll Opera House in the Tiergarten Park of central Berlin to hear Hitler address his rubber stamp Reichstag.

Hitler's brown-clad deputies, summoned from their beds in the wee hours of the night, packed the hall. There was an empty seat in the diplomats gallery where the Polish ambassador usually sat.

Then, sharply at 10 a.m., Hitler strode in with his entourage crowding behind him. As he passed down the aisle, the deputies rose as a man. Arms shot upward in the Nazi salute.

It was a familiar sight—with one small exception demonstrating the detail to which Hitler had gone in planning the war. For the first time, he and his adjutants appeared in well-tailored outfits made of the field gray cloth the Nazi army wore instead of the brown party uniform.

"I have never desired anything more than to serve the state as a soldier," Hitler declared in a strong voice. "I am putting on the uniform and I shall take it off only in victory or death."

The Reichstag rose to its feet. A roar of "sieg heil"—hail victory—echoed through the hall.

Hitler finished his war tirade without a formal declaration of war. A colleague and I walked out into the Tiergarten to our car.

We found a soldier about to stencil an army symbol on the front and rear fenders. Dozens of other cars parked along the shady Tiergarten streets already bore army identifications.

"These are cars requisitioned for the general staff," the soldier explained.

"But there must be some mistake," we protested. "We're foreign newspapermen."

The soldier conferred with his superior, accepted our explanation and off we drove.

Work already had stopped on the great rebuilding schemes planned by Hitler on an heroic scale to convert Berlin into a capital he considered worthy of his dreams for a thousand years Reich.

On all sides, the shift to a war basis was going ahead almost automatically.

Workmen were stringing wire across tiny lakes in the parks to support camouflage making it more difficult for enemy fliers to orient themselves.

In a schoolyard, veterinarians were examining hundreds of horses before they were sent to the front.

Queues of housewives stood outside grocery, butcher and milk stores. They clutched newly issued food ration cards. Berliners crowded into other shops hoping to buy up still unrationed articles against the uncertain future.

Riding home that night in a bus, I spoke English to an acquaintance.

"In Germany, we speak German," snapped a man across the aisle. "We have enough spies already."

Freshly pasted to a window behind him was a poster. The caption read: "The enemy is listening."

Wednesday: The Nazis grab Danzig.

End ADV For PMS Tuesday Sept. 1.

Rapist Gang Rounded Up; To Face Charges

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A gang of Negro rapists which preyed on white women has been rounded up and four of its members will be charged with rape and robbery today, Detective Capt. Leo Wolfel said.

Their names were withheld pending the issuance of formal warrants.

One 28-year-old member of the gang, Wolfel said after following their arrests Monday night, was identified at a showup by four victims and later admitted raping 13 white women and then robbing them.

The rapes occurred during a 6-month period late in 1956 and early in 1957.

Salvation Army Board Honors Departing Pair

Senior Maj. and Mrs. William Murtaugh were honored at a farewell luncheon Monday noon at Tice's Restaurant by the Salvation Army Advisory Board.

Don Baxter, chairman, presented a gift to the couple on behalf of the board.

They will leave Wednesday for their new appointment at Dover and will be succeeded by Maj. and Mrs. William Hathorn of Ashland, Ohio, who are to arrive tomorrow.

The Murtaughs have served here since July 1955 after 7 years in Bellaire.

Heart Attack Fatal

BALTIMORE (AP)—Arthur H. Parsons Jr., director of the Enoch Pratt Free Library and author of several children's books, died Sunday of a heart attack. He was born in Lynn, Mass.

The sewing machine, oldest of all labor saving devices still in use, was patented in 1846.

Negotiations Continue Glass Container Walkout Averted In Pact Extension

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Negotiators try again today for a new labor agreement to cover 2,000 moldworkers in the glass container industry after averting a strike last midnight by extending the existing contract.

The extension came less than an hour before the 2,000 moldmakers, key employees in 80 plants of 26 glass container manufacturing firms, were scheduled to walk off the job. They will work on a day-to-day basis.

The extension proposal was submitted by federal mediator William Rose. He said either side could terminate the agreements by giving 24-hours notice.

Many money agreements subsequently worked out will be retroactive to Sept. 1.

A joint meeting of negotiators for the American Flint Glass Workers Union and the glass container industry was scheduled for this afternoon.

The talks are deadlocked over issues of wages, weekend work schedules and handling of grievances.

A company demand that all grievances not settled at the local level go to arbitration appeared to be the chief stumbling block.

The union wants to continue the present practice of holding unsettled grievances until negotiators meet at contract time.

The union also rejected a company proposal to increase wages an average of 8 1/4-cents an hour and demanded an average wage hike of 20 cents hourly. The moldworkers average $2.80 hourly.

Also unsettled is a dispute over weekend working schedules. Weekend work now is on a voluntary basis but the company wants the right to post strict weekend schedules.

Ohio plants involved include the Hazel Atlas Glass Division of Continental Can Co. at Zanesville and Lamb Glass Co. at Mount Vernon.

Trumbull County Due Aid To Solve Relief Problems

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Trumbull County will receive some help from Gov. Michael V. DiSalle in solving its relief problems.

The governor, who addressed the annual county Democratic picnic Sunday, said he planned to move up payments of the state's allocation to the county by one month and will make it on the basis of estimated expenditures rather than actual money spent.

"We would be helped considerably if the state would make this change in procedure," said Welfare Director W. S. Wike.

The county has been financing relief on a deficit basis since July 1. Meanwhile, 204 cases of steel strikers have been added to the relief rolls. Wike said 100 to 150 new cases of steel strikers may be added today when the new orders are issued by the Welfare Department.

Trumbull County's relief program had been financed by a $440,000 public utility excise tax and $200,000 in state matching funds. Under the state rule of matching funds only when they are actually expended, the county has not been able to get these funds since July 1 because of deficit financing.

Alford Declared Duly Elected To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Elections subcommittee has declared Rep. Dale Alford (D-Ark) duly elected to Congress.

The subcommittee unanimously approved a resolution Monday saying that Alford is entitled to his seat from the 5th Arkansas District.

The subcommittee has been investigating the election last November in which Alford, a Little Rock segregationist, defeated former Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark).

There had been accusations of irregularities in the election.

DiSalle Claims Neglect Forced In Ohio Taxes

CINCINNATI (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says "the neglect of past years" has forced new taxes for Ohio.

The governor told a Kiwanis luncheon Monday "we would have been better off had we kept pace with increasing governmental responsibility on a day-to-day basis."

He said the state spent nearly a billion dollars more than it took in during the last decade.

The Democrat said, "All the people of this state are joined together to fulfill certain obligations in mental health, education, welfare and highways."

He added, "At the end of four years, Ohio's needs will have been met, we will be on a cash basis as much as humanly possible, or obligations will have been met and will have incurred no new obligations."

Earlier Monday, the governor conferred here with the governors and highway officials of Kentucky and Indiana on a proposed bridge across the Ohio River.

Planning Paid Off; He Needs Bail Money

LITTLE FERRY, N.J. (AP)—Anthony Havel testified in court Monday that on Aug. 16 he telephoned his mother and asked her to get some bail money; went to police headquarters and told police he was going to get arrested; then went to a local tavern and slapped his wife's face.

The planning paid off. Havel was arrested.

Magistrate Frank Barteluce heard the testimony and kept the sequence of events going. He fined Havel $50 for assault.

"NEVER TAKE COUNSEL OF YOUR FEARS"

"(Author's Name Below)"

Fear is a bad adviser, particularly when your health is concerned. Some people are afraid to consult a physician when sick. They fear they may have a serious trouble and are afraid to find out the truth.

A physician can soon relieve fear, by accurately diagnosing the cause of the sickness, which then probably can be soon cured. Even if the sickness were one of the few incurables, an early diagnosis and proper treatment would make it easier to live an almost normal life. Depend on your physician and the medicine he will prescribe.

3 Major Walkouts Averted

Labor Picture Brightens

By The Associated Press

The nation's labor picture, darkened by the long and costly steel strike and its effect on allied industries, appeared a little brighter today as threatened walkouts were averted in three major industries.

Agreements were reached Monday night as strike deadlines neared in the rubber, glass and meat packing industries. They ended possible walkouts of more than 100,000 workers. Already idled by the steel strike are a half-million steel workers and some 150,000 other workers in allied industries.

Also on the brighter side were the ending of two strikes involving more than 5,000 workers and the 24-hour postponement of a threatened walkout against Pan American Airways.

At Cleveland, a general wage settlement giving 24,000 Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. employees a 10-cent-an-hour wage increase was announced by the company and the United Rubber Workers.

A walkout by 70,000 workers against the country's meat packing industry appeared averted at least temporarily after two unions reached agreement on a tentative contract with Armour Co. shortly before the Monday midnight strike deadline. The pact with the big meat packing firm covers 14,000 workers at 27 plants. Details of the new agreement were not disclosed but a union spokesman said it included a wage increase and some novel features.

Agreements reached with the major packers generally govern the contracts with the smaller packing firms.

A scheduled strike at midnight Monday was delayed by some 2,000 moldmakers in 80 glass plants across the nation as union and industry negotiators at Pittsburgh agreed to a contract extension. The contract will be on a day-by-day basis.

The talks, deadlocked over issues of wages, weekend work schedules and handling of grievances, are to be resumed today in the glass container industry.

A 25-day Teamsters strike at San Francisco ended with a two-year contract providing $4.20 a day in wage increases for 5,000 members of Teamsters Union Local 85. The new pay scales range from $22.20 to $24.20 a day.

At Scranton, Pa., a 10-week strike at Capitol Records ended when the International Assn. of Machinists accepted a three-year contract for more than 600 workers.

At New York, the Flight Engineers International Assn. said it had postponed the threatened strike against Pan American Airways after the airline agreed to discontinue the training of third pilots as flight engineers aboard jet liners.

At Washington, 11 non-operating railroad unions said they will demand a 25-cent an hour wage boost, plus welfare concessions, for more than 600,000 rail workers. A union spokesman said a nationwide railroad strike could result on Nov. 2 if the railroads maintain that present agreements must continue beyond Nov. 1. Unions representing operating rail workers have asked for a 12 to 14 per cent wage increase.

Army's New 'Pentomic' Setup

Reorganization Of Ohio's National Guard Underway

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio National Guard is reorganizing itself into a different shape in keeping with the Army's new "pentomic" structure.

Ohio Adj. Gen. Loren G. Windom, commander of the ONG's 37th Division, announced the reorganization today, but said it is not expected to be completed until the end of the year.

The "pentomic" concept involves the streamlining of combat divisions and supporting units. The word is derived from the Greek symbol for five and "atomic."

Under the plan, the 37th Division will now have five "battle groups" in place of the traditional regiments.

Each battle group is designed to be a self-sufficient, self-contained, mobile striking force capable of avoiding atomic weapon casualties through troop dispersal.

The state's 216 company and detachment-sized units will be reorganized into 172 units.

But "every Ohio community that now has a National Guard unit will continue to have one under the new organization," Maj. Gen. Windom explained.

"Although over-all state strength (number of troops) will remain about the same," he added, "unit strengths through the state may have to be adjusted upward or downward in individual instances to meet new strength authorizations."

The 37th Division will continue to have roughly half the state's total troop strength. The remaining Army Guard units in Ohio will continue to be non-division combat and combat-support types.

Windom said the reorganization will enable the Guard "to do a job in carrying out our state mission."

Contract Accord Averts Strike In East Ohio Gas Co.

CLEVELAND (AP) — A strike against the East Ohio Gas Co. was averted Monday night when the Natural Gas Workers Union ratified a one-year contract.

Union president John D. Nagle said the pact, which covers 2,500 workers in nine cities, was accepted by a margin of 4 to 1. It provides for wage increases ranging from $10 to $26 a month, plus fringe benefits.

The package increase averages 16.5 cents an hour, with 11 cents going for wage boosts, retroactive to Aug. 2.

The union had called a strike for 8 a.m. Monday, but after a tentative agreement on the new contract was reached Saturday the walkout was postponed for 24 hours for Monday night's ratification meetings. They were held in Cleveland, Akron, Canton, North Canton, Youngstown, Ashtabula, Warren, Wooster and Cadiz.

East Ohio Gas, which serves 800,000 customers in 11 northeastern Ohio counties, has not had a strike in its 61-year history.

Mike Corgan, backfield coach at the University of Wyoming, was born in the Philippine Islands, the son of a U. S. Navy surgeon.

The Steel Strike Is

GOOD NEWS ABROAD

In Germany, Italy, Belgium, England, Japan and other countries, men are happily making steel to send to the United States — itself the greatest steelmaking nation in the world.

The steel they are sending here means jobs and wages lost to American steelworkers forever.

Long before the strike began, however, imports of foreign steel were rising while exports of American steel were falling. Since December 1958 monthly steel imports have exceeded exports, for the first time in modern history.

One of the chief reasons for this is that steelworkers' wages abroad are only one-third to one-seventh as much as the American steelworker gets.

Yet the leaders of the steel Union in this country have called 500,000 steelworkers out on strike for more inflation — and an even wider wage gap between the U.S.A. and its foreign competitors.

Here from recent trade reports are a few examples which highlight the growing threat of foreign steel imports:

- A manufacturer of fencing, nails and wire for 58 years has completely closed one of his plants. The reason: foreign competition.
- A steel mill which regularly shipped 24,000 tons of barbed wire annually, sold only 220 tons in 1958.
- So far this year imports of plumbers' pipe on the West Coast have averaged 13,000 tons a month — substantially more than total American production in that area.

• At Houston, Texas, 21,600 tons of steel from Belgium and Japan were unloaded in a single day. And two other ships were waiting to unload steel.

• About 50 percent of all the steel being consumed in Dallas, Texas, is foreign-made.

• During the second quarter of this year imports of foreign steel poured into the eleven Southern states at the annual rate of 2,000,000 tons. This would provide full-time employment for 13,200 men and an annual payroll of $90,000,000.

The picture is not encouraging. If American industry cannot produce steel products more efficiently and at lower cost, the jobs of many more steelworkers will be permanently lost.

The logical solution to this problem is to hold wage costs in line here at home while we strive to improve our industrial efficiency and regain our technological advantages over foreign producers.

There are two important ways to improve efficiency. One is to continue to install the most modern facilities and equipment as rapidly as profits permit. The other is to eliminate waste and unnecessary work wherever they exist.

The Union has repeatedly denounced the profits necessary to pay for the modernization of our plants and has steadfastly opposed proposals to eliminate waste. Yet the companies still continue to hope that the Union will cooperate in meeting the problem of foreign competition.

The result could be a permanent gain for the steelworkers, the steel companies and the nation.

More Unfortunate Than Usual

The Communist party of India is reported to be regretting the "unfortunate border incidents" that have made Prime Minister Nehru say Indian soil has been violated by Red China.

This could be more unfortunate than usual for the Chinese Communists. It could snap the thin thread of plausibility that has given them strength in Asia out of proportion to their record as ruthless aggressors.

The Asiatics, including the Indians — even Nehru, himself, has been suspected of this — have been receptive to the Communist conspiracy because it offered them in theory an alternative to exploitation.

It has been useless to point out that nothing about the Communists justified this happy hope: that they would be as ruthless in their exploitation as the worst of the colonial powers ever had been.

In the case of the Chinese Communists, especially, Asiatics had a special margin of confidence because these were Asiatics like themselves. But as the Dalai Lama's appeal to the United Nations in behalf of his followers in Tibet now has made clear, it is no comfort to be exterminated by one's own kind.

Nor is it any solace to know that in some future border skirmish the ambush will be set by Asiatics — homegrown talent, instead of imported troops with names like Hawkins, Simpkins, Doolittle and Tomkins.

The fact is that Chinese Communists and their satellites are showing their hand in Asia, the same as European Communists have shown their hand in Europe. They intend to intrude into every room where they can find an unlocked door. They do not respect either individuals or states. They are motivated by a fanatic zeal to overwhelm everything they cannot undermine.

On a continent whose hordes once thought of strong-arming as a monopoly of white men, it will come as a rude awakening to know that even Prime Minister Nehru finally is getting a bellyful of Communist expansionism.

September Not Melancholy

All of us who will argue at the drop of a maple leaf that September is the finest month of the year, all things considered, will not be patient with anyone who says it is the beginning of the melancholy season.

What we consider about September that makes it the finest month is the gradual decline in humidity, until one evening the air will be so dry it crackles; the gradual improvement in sleeping conditions and the tapering off of some of the wildly exuberant growth of weeds. There's nothing melancholy about that.

We take into consideration a net improvement in social conditions when the moppets go back to school, which is where they belong after three months on the loose.

We admit to getting fed up with baseball and having a sharpening appetite for football. We also confess, if we are honest, to a certain weariness that comes from attempting to do too many things over too long a time thanks to the long hours of summer daylight.

To be blunt about it, we are getting a little tired of summer on the terms of summer. If it were to continue indefinitely, we'd have to devise new terms for the long pull, such as less lawn-mowing, less lateness of retiring, less earliness of arising and so on — to conserve our strength, naturally.

One day in September we'll fill our lungs with the tonic air, look at a bright blue sky and sign a lease on vigor. The lease will expire on or about Jan. 1, but while it lasts it will be a bargain.

There's nothing melancholy about September, except the people who make it seem that way by moaning about summer. The truth is that September is part of summer and would be so considered were it not for the historic blunder of having Labor Day prematurely, giving rise to the impression that summer is over.

Someone Pays The Freight

A statement made recently by the president of Ohio State University, Novice G. Fawcett, sets a question mark over policy in the state's largest university.

"In the foreseeable future, students at Ohio State University should not pay a greater portion of the cost of their education than they are now paying," said Dr. Fawcett. "If an inordinate portion of the cost of educating young people is to be loaded on the backs of the students, a state university could no longer discharge the trust that has been placed in it."

Dr. Fawcett said he did not mean student fees should not be raised; he was talking about what portion of costs should be paid, not how much money should be paid. But the question about policy is whether or not Ohioans can be expected to underwrite an ever-expanding program of advanced education on terms that give students in its tax-supported schools a clear advantage over students in private schools.

Advanced education is not compulsory. It is an option, though it is increasingly an option that young persons exercise to both personal and public advantage.

But in all schools that must derive their income from voluntary support in the form of endowments and contributions, tuition has been rising sharply. The student's portion of the cost of education has been growing larger. Some of the larger portion may be met with loans, scholarship funds and voluntary help, but it is not met by ever-larger withdrawals of public funds, as it will have to be if tax-supported colleges and universities fail to meet their rising expenses with rising income.

Dr. Fawcett's remark will raise the eyebrows of parents getting ready to underwrite the highest tuition rates in history for their sons and daughters preparing to attend schools not supported by taxpayers' money. Someone pays the freight when costs go up — and not every OSU student is impoverished.

Little Red Schooling

Strike Leaders May Face Unhappy Days

By Victor Riesel

Only dramatic and personal, but private, pressure by President Eisenhower on his return from the continent can end the multi-billion dollar steel strike before late fall.

Even such pressure from on high would fail to budge either side unless the President reported he had found in crisis during his talks in European capitals.

But none of the highly placed national experts on steel and the clashing of big labor and heavy industry actually believe that Mr. Eisenhower will find such a crisis or exert such pressure. Neither will he take to the radio and television airwaves as he did during the labor bill fight.

THUS THE MEN I polled, including some of Cabinet rank, and their technical advisers believe that the steel strike will last until Oct. 1 at least. Some said they don't look for a settlement before Nov. 1.

Industry and government analysts believe that as summer goes, the real heat will hit Dave McDonald's United Steelworkers. This is long before there will be any real pressure on the 12 embattled steel companies. Here's why:

There will be no government pressure on the steel firms because there is no "hollering" yet from the Pentagon for the metal.

"There will be no pressure from the big steel customers. First, because the steel consumers have up to four months' worth of material. And secondly, even after they run out of the stuff, they will want the steel industry to stand pat and 'correct' the trend of pro-labor victories which have resulted in heavy contract concessions in all industries since the first shots were fired in 1939.

The auto industry, for example, has enough steel to run to Nov. 1. By that time it will have perhaps a million new cars stocked up — enough to carry through until 1960.

Other industries are set for months. There is a typical General Electric plant which not only has steel pushing out the walls of its warehouses and private stores but has the metal piled up in rickety old freight cars on sidings which haven't yet been touched.

THE UNION will not be in such an unharmed position. Labor's own relief experts have been receiving reports that the strikers are just about starting to feel the pinch.

This is the end of the strike's seventh week — the beginning of the eighth. At summer's end, all extra pay and all vacation pay, which usually rolls in for five weeks after the strike call, will have ended and will have been spent.

Calls are now coming in for surplus food. Banks, utilities, stores, landlords and car financiers, having extended credit for two months, will have to tighten up.

The union's income of 2½ million dollars a month averages little more than a dollar a striker a week. Mr. McDonald will have to start digging into his union's 33 million dollar capital. And that could go fast in a modern strike.

Of utmost importance is the fact that pressure will come from other unions. There are more than five million workers in industries dependent on steel and iron. And still other industries depend on these feeder industries.

There is, for example tool manufacturing (instruments and related products) which employ 300,000. This doesn't include the machinery and electrical equipment field, which employs 2,800,000. As special steels vanish, there will be layoffs. Each week, Secretary of Labor Mitchell will publicize the number of growing unemployed.

MANY OF THESE jobless will be employees of small businessmen — for they are the ones who don't store steel and don't have access to the 12 per cent which is still being produced. Soon the little businessmen will start screaming. They naturally will see the striking union as their opponent.

All this pressure will hit hard and loud soon after Labor Day, when the country realizes the holiday is over. According to the consensus of those experts polled, the Steel Union leaders then face their grimmest prospect.

As the noise grows and steel diminishes President Eisenhower will, under the Taft-Hartley law, summon a board of review to ask if there is a national emergency.

The board will investigate. Then the President will ask Attorney General Rogers to get a court injunction ending the strike for 80 days.

He will reconvene the board. For 60 days it will study, report and go home without recommendations. Then the National Labor Relations Board will poll the strikers on whether they want to accept the last steel industry offer or resume striking.

This would take the NLRB poll close to the Christmas season. Whichever way the Steel Workers vote, those won't be happy days for the strike leaders.

Hit At Home, Not Abroad

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON That self-confidence and sweet air of nothingness which James C. Hagerty can exude upon occasion falls flat on its face overseas. He is a hit at home but London gives him the miseries.

This lively, 50-year old grandfather, President Eisenhower's press secretary, is one of the best any president ever had, at least from a president's viewpoint.

He has done so well since 1953 that two years ago he got applauded from opposite directions. The Binghamton (N.Y.) Press suggested he be named the Republican candidate for governor of New York.

And Sen. Lyndon Johnson, the Senate's Democratic boss, said Hagerty had done such a good propaganda job for the administration he should be given a job to "propagandize the rest of the world."

He gets along all right with American newsmen who remember the superb job of information he did on Eisenhower's heart attack in 1955. The American press treats him gently.

But he clicks like a rusty lock in London. Two years ago the papers there gave him a big horse laugh when columnist Art Buchwald of the New York Herald Tribune stuck a needle in him and Hagerty jumped.

Buchwald thought Hagerty's news conferences during NATO talks were packed with nothingness. He wrote an imaginary spoof on the Hagerty school of questions and answers. This outraged Hagerty.

He called a special news conference, indignantly denounced the imaginary conference as "unadulterated rot." The London Daily Express called it an "incredible scene."

Buchwald had the last word, which ex-newspaperman Hagerty might have expected. Buchwald wrote another piece, explaining the rot he wrote might be "adulterated" but was never "unadulterated."

Last month, for a quick look-see around before Eisenhower flew over for talks with American allies, Hagerty and a squad of Secret Service men, whose job is guarding the President, went to London.

He lived gorgeously in headlines. One British paper reported what he ate, where he went, what he did, minute by minute. In an eight-column banner the Sunday Dispatch said "Hagerty looks us over."

Then last week Hagerty returned to London, this time with Eisenhower, and this time, but only temporarily, got more subtle treatment, on the sly side.

The London Observer said Hagerty is "today a great officer of state" and "the most powerful press officer in history." It said if Hagerty had been a Briton he would have earned a peerage and would now be Lord Hagerty.

Then came the harpoon. The paper said: "He has brought the cultivation of the relationship between the President and the mass media to a fine Machiavellian art. Whether such an art is wholly desirable is quite another question." Things got worse for Hagerty.

At a Sunday news conference reporters wanted to know what Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan talked about. A big cloud of nothingness must have invaded the room.

Hagerty and his British counterpart, Foreign Office spokesman Peter Hope, disclosed what Eisenhower and Macmillan had to eat, but not what they said.

After a while, the Daily Sketch said, British newsmen were so "disgusted and bewildered" that they protested against the "airy-fairy" information from Hagerty and Hope.

Newsmen began calling the scene of the conference the Hagertyorium. To make matters worse for Hagerty, Eisenhower, who held a news conference after talking to West Germany's Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in Bonn, refused to hold one in London.

Reporters hoped that today night's informal TV talk by Eisenhower and Macmillan might give them some insights. But the two men talked generalities.

Such information as did come out on the Eisenhower-Macmillan talks was attributed to "informed sources" and "diplomats." Why this couldn't have been handled in an open way is one of the mysteries of foreign affairs.

Highway Tunnel

Work is under way on the world's longest highway tunnel, which will burrow under Mont Blanc to connect France and Italy.

Scheduled for completion in 1962, the tunnel will be 7.3 miles long and about 5,200 feet above sea level at its center. It will provide a direct, all-season route between Paris and Rome, reducing the driving distance between the two capitals by more than 90 miles.

Several good trans-Alpine highways exist, but snow often blocks them seven months a year. Then motor vehicles must take a round-about route along the Mediterranean coast or be shipped through railroad tunnels.

Presently, an hour - and - a-half of arduous driving is required to cross the average Alpine pass in a good car. It will take about 12 minutes to cross the Alps through the Mont Blanc tunnel. The tunnel will run from near Chamonix, a popular French resort, to Entreves, Italy, not far from Aosta.

Designed to handle about 600,000 vehicles a year, the tunnel will have a 23-foot roadway for two lanes of traffic.

Big Tests Lie Ahead

By David Lawrence

Three Bills Will Test Democrats

In a few days there will be several important tests which will tell the American people whether the Democratic party majority in Congress elected last autumn has proved responsible or irresponsible.

First, a bill calling for more than one billion dollars in public works projects which are not provided for in the President's budget, but which selfish interests in various congressional districts have promoted, will be up for decision as to whether President Eisenhower's veto shall be sustained or overridden.

Second, the labor reform bill which the nation demands and which was passed overwhelmingly by the House of Representatives has run into a deadlock in the Joint Conference Committee of both houses. Now the Senate must vote whether to follow or ignore the public sentiment that favors an end to racketeering and the "black-mail" picketing that injures innocent third parties.

Third, the House leadership of the Democratic party has bottled up a bill that calls for higher interest rates on government bonds. The issue has not been permitted to be voted on in clear cut fashion by the Democratic leaders of the House. Failure to act could mean a crisis for the dollar and produce more inflation.

THE BEST exposition of the case for the bill that would give the Treasury power to go beyond the present limit of 4½ per cent on bonds that mature after five years has been given by Sen. Harry Byrd (D-Va.), who is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee. He says:

"The distinguished speaker of the House of Representatives, my good friend, Mr. Sam Rayburn, is quoted in the newspapers as saying that the House will not consider federal interest rate ceiling legislation at this session, as requested by the President, because said Mr. Rayburn: 'There is not the slightest chance the Senate will do anything this year.'"

"It seems to me to be somewhat inconsistent for the House to alibi itself around this very important matter when it has allowed the Senate no opportunity to act."

"Under the Constitution and custom the House originates legislation relating to taxation, debt, interest, etc. As the House, after weeks of consideration, has passed no interest rate bill the Senate has had no opportunity to act."

"As chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, I want to say to the distinguished speaker that should the House pass such legislation, I will immediately call a meeting of the Finance Committee for action on it.

"I do not pretend to speak for what either the Senate Finance Committee or the Senate will do but I regard some legislation as vital in the fiscal crisis involving the sale of federal bonds which now confronts us.

"We must be realistic. We know interest rates on nearly all non-government issues of securities have increased and the government must meet the prevailing interest rates. I deplore this, but such is the case."

"Within the next 12 months the government must borrow at least $5 billion dollars, and, under present legislation, this enormous sum must be sold in short term securities."

"There is not a single Treasury bond selling at par, and some are selling as low as 81, meaning that the purchaser of that particular issue of bonds at par has had a loss of 19 per cent on his principal."

"I personally am convinced that it is imperative that this Congress act before it adjourns, to increase the rate on Series E and H Savings Bonds which are held by small investors."

"Holders of these savings bonds are now paid an interest rate of 3 per cent for the first 3 years and 3½ per cent if held 8 years and 11 months to maturity, while the large owners of Treasury bonds, at present quotations, can earn as much as 4.67 per cent."

"This is not only a great injustice to the 40 million citizens who own 42 billion dollars in Series E and H Savings Bonds but we can not overlook the fact that the owners of savings bonds have the right to cash them in, after 60 days and, should they do so, a crisis of first magnitude will confront the United States Treasury."

"It would be calamitous if we tried to solve this problem by forcing the Federal Reserve System purchase of more government bonds. This would mean printing money. Unquestionably it would lead to disastrous inflation."

"We have already lost one half of the purchasing power of the dollar in 20 years. Inflation is our No. 2 problem. We must balance our budget, soundly finance our indebtedness and begin to pay off the principal and do those things that any prudent man would do when faced with such conditions as confront our country today."

UNLESS THE MAJORITY in the House of Representatives heeds the advice of Sen. Byrd, the Democratic party will have to take full responsibility for the serious financial consequences that may ensue.

Letters To The Editor

In answer to the letter by Roy Masters in which he deprecates the proposed moving of the headquarters of the IBOP to a spot on Route 7 eight miles from the present building in East Liverpool. I want to assure Mr. Masters that many people in our city are concerned about this and are in the process of trying to get a referendum of the Potters Union to stop this movement.

I want to further enlighten Mr. Masters as to just how this situation became foisted upon us. It was not the result of any resolution introduced in the Potters' convention, but came out as a "recommendation of committee." In this instance, I understand it was the finance committee. These committees are handpicked by the Executive Board of the Potters Union and it's only reasonable to expect that they are chosen for their ability to be cooperative with the wishes of said board and those who guide it.

There have been a number of East Liverpool local unions petition for a referendum, by notifying their members to be present at a meeting to discuss this matter, and to vote on rescinding the action of the convention, but the notices mailed or sent in to the Potters' Herald, as the first step in the procedure, have not been printed. One excuse or another is used for the rejection of these notices, but true democratic procedure is being denied these people, and it's happening right here in E.L.O.

LARRY FINLAY
709 Sophia St.

I read with interest the story in The Review and the sample ballot printed in The Potters Herald calling for a vote of the members of the IBOP for the purpose of granting pensions to the officers and representatives of the IBOP.

The last convention of course voted to place this issue before the members. But when it came to the place where the Executive Board wanted to spend some $300,000 for a new building (out in the country) the convention did not see fit to put it to a vote of the members. I wonder why.

I think it only fair to all members of the IBOP to have a voice in the spending of IBOP funds, whether it be pensions or building a country estate.

Long-Term Picture Brighter

Over-All Steel Troubles Could Pile Up In Hurry

By SAW DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The steel strike drags into another month and today even those with big stock piles are getting nervous.

About three-fourths of the users say they can keep going until mid-October. But they also know they must stretch their stocks not only over the length of the strike but also for several weeks more before the steel mills can promise normal deliveries.

In industries tied closely to steel production, strike effects are still spreading. First came layoffs in the mines and on the railroads serving steel mills. Now salary cuts for executive personnel are being announced by such railroads as the Pennsylvania and Boston & Maine.

In a tally by the financial staff of the Research Institute of America only 30 out of 300 steel users report they've already been hit by shortages. But by the middle of this month 100 expect to be. And by the middle of next month 225 say they'll be hurting.

Some metalworking companies also are facing up to labor troubles of their own which could close them even if steel stocks hold out. Only about half of the companies are able to say when they expect normal shipments after the strike. Many of the others say they have tried to find out and can't.

Half of those thinking they know say they expect to be getting regular supplies in about a month after the mills start up. The others are more pessimistic.

And the institute says: "Some firms tell us they've been notified they won't be on the mills' fourth quarter books at all, no matter what happens."

The institute is a business advisory organization supported by private industry. Member firms pooled are assured of anonymity — a practice regarded as making for more frankness.

For the long term, the picture is much brighter. Three months after the strike ends the steel industry and steel-using industries will be making up for lost production and rebuilding depleted stocks. This is expected to push the economy as a whole into new high ground well into 1960.

But the institute takes a dimmer view of the immediate outlook. Its financial staff says: "We've already passed the point where trouble can be avoided, even if the strike ended right away. Metalworking companies have passed the point of no return because it will be three to six weeks after the furnaces start again before the average customer can get normal deliveries, let alone rebuild inventory."

Those other than metalworkers already hurt include, besides the obvious ones of coal mines and railroads serving steel mills: Contractors who can't start new jobs without delivery dates on structural steel they'll need.

Plastic molders who may be running low on tool steel for dies. Chemical producers who may be running low of steel containers and must cut back on production of some items.

Truckers who, like the railroad, have business in moving steel from mills to customers.

Over-all trouble isn't here yet. But it could come fast.

Prohibition Era Ends

Oklahomans Toast Legal Whiskey After 52 Years

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Oklahomans can taste legal liquor for the first time in 52 years today. At 10 a.m. doors swing open at some 500 state-sanctioned package stores. An era will end.

Prohibition, born of Indian troubles and Carrie Nation oratory, will be a relic of this young state's past.

On the surface, strangers will find things pretty much the same. Nothing resembling a mass binge is expected. No public celebrations are planned.

"I don't look for a drunken brawl," said State Crime Bureau Chief Forrest Castle. "I think most people will just be drinking a toast to legalized whisky."

But in case those toasts get out of hand, Castle plans to have agents spread around the state with an eye for disturbances.

The new era won't mean the introduction of whisky to Oklahoma. For 52 years bootleggers have been silent butlers of a flourishing illegal liquor trade.

They were accommodating as the barroom free lunch. Now they may become just as obsolete.

Gov. J. Howard Edmondson, the state's 33-year-old chief executive who brought about repeal, summed up the historic switch in a statement of shotglass brevity. "Today won't mark any change as far as the presence of liquor in Oklahoma is concerned," the governor said. "It will mark the beginning of an era of liquor taxation in Oklahoma."

Liquor representation without taxation, as much as any other factor, brought about the doom of prohibition. Steady bootlegging was another cause.

The state's high $2.40 per gallon liquor tax is considered a long overdue source of state revenue. Oklahoma's budget for the next two years is tied to the expected liquor money.

Oklahomans voted for repeal

April 7. Three months later the Legislature completed the rules for liquor consumption and distribution. Since then the state has been busy issuing licenses.

Under its new law, Oklahoma will have package sales only with no public drinking.

There will be no local option. Any city of at least 200 population can have stores.

The demise of prohibition in Oklahoma leaves only one state, Mississippi, constitutionally dry.

Father Asks $80,354 For Injuries To Son

LISBON — Robert J. Shoff, 205 E. Market St., East Palestine, filed two actions Monday in Common Pleas Court, seeking $80,354 damages for injuries to his son, Stephen, 9.

The defendants are Adamson Co., East Palestine; city of East Palestine, and Pittsburgh Pipe Cleaner Co. of Ohio, Cleveland.

Shoff claims the three defendants were responsible for cleaning a debris-clogged culvert under E. Clark St. and the Adamson Property in July 1956, and devised a system of cable, bucket, winch and pulley.

They left the system unguarded in operation, Shoff states, and his son grabbed the cable and rode it into the pulley. His hands were crushed and mangled, the father said.

Shoff asks $75,000 for the boy, $5,354 for himself.

Chester Band Mothers To Operate Concession

Plans for the operation of a refreshment stand at Chester High School home football games were discussed at a meeting of the Purple and Gold Band Mothers Monday night at the high school.

Mrs. Forrest McDonald, Mrs. James Morris, Mrs. Bernard Reber and Mrs. Alton Johnson were named to purchase supplies for the stand.

Mrs. Jerrold Wilson was appointed chairman of a rummage sale to be held in November. Mrs. Johnson, president, Mrs. McDonald and John Clovis, director, reported on the band camp held in August near Toronto.

Mrs. Fred Greenlee was named chairman of a committee to contact members for volunteer services during the football season.

The next meeting will be Oct. 5.

2 Burn To Death

CLEVELAND (AP)—Two men were burned to death Monday when a runaway dump truck overturned at the bottom of a steep hill in suburban Valley View and caught fire. They were Jessie Neff, 41, the driver, and E. W. Dickerson, 47, a passenger.

Officers Of 6 Clubs To Meet

A zone meeting of presidents and secretaries of six West Virginia Lions Clubs has been set for Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. at the Snodgrass Restaurant in Weirton Heights. Walter L. Jordan, zone chairman and secretary of the Chester club, said.

Clubs will include Chester, Newell, New Cumberland, Weirton, Follansbee and Wellsburg. John D. Herron of New Cumberland, deputy district governor, and Carl C. Bender of Weirton, international councilor, will also attend. This will be the first of three scheduled zone meetings. The next will be in November, Jordan said.

To be discussed at the meeting will be the duties of presidents and secretaries, objectives and activities, the importance of inter-club and zone meetings, club meetings, programs, membership development on the international level and the anniversary membership development in October on the district level.

The group will also discuss the West Virginia Lions Sight Conservation Foundation, which promotes eyes banks, sight conservation and rehabilitation programs.

Jordan said clubs will participate in several contests which begin today and end next April 30. They include the membership drive, the club visitation and regional "Jungle Prowler" contests and the district governor contest.

The jungle prowler contest is designed to encourage inter-club visits, Jordan said. The 10-inch loving cup trophy for the contest will be at New Cumberland first.

Several members of the Chester club will visit the New Cumberland Sept. 8 in a bid for the cup, Jordan said.

Edgar E. Simonton of Belmont, W. Va., is district governor.

75 At Family Picnic For Barbershop Group

Seventy-five attended a family covered picnic of the East Liverpool chapter of Barbershop Singers Monday night at the DAV summer home at West Point.

Selections were presented by the Colonials Quartet and the Brass Philats, the chapter's champion novice quartet. There also was group singing. Arrangements were in charge of Gerald Jividen, social committee chairman, and Bob Blatchford, chairman of the program committee.

During business, William Brooks, president, announced the next weekly meeting will be held Monday despite the Labor Day holiday. Plans will be made to entertain visiting barbershoppers from Cadiz, Carrollton, Cambridge, Steubenville and Toronto on Sept. 14.

The only living Ohioan with his name on an historical town marker in the state is John W. Brickner, former governor and U. S. Senator.

County Will Replace Bridge For $19,880

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners signed a contract Monday with the Ohio Bridge Co. of Cambridge to replace a 50-year-old steel truss bridge across the Mahoning River in Knox Township.

The south side of the bridge fell into the water last Tuesday night after trustees barricaded it as a safety measure. Motorists had told them the side of the bridge wobbled.

The 62-foot span was posted with a 5-ton load limit. It is located on Hartley Rd., a mile south of the Mahoning County line.

Contract price of the new structure will be $19,880. Work is to start today with completion expected in two weeks, Commissioner Max Gard, president, said.

The new bridge will be 2 feet wide, compared to 12 feet for the existing span, and will have a concrete floor.

Double Check Raises Quake Deaths To 28

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (AP) — "The evidence available indicates they probably were in the slide area."

With those words Monday, Sheriff Donald J. Skerritt added 13 names, raising to 28 the probable death toll in the mammoth landslides set off by earthquakes Aug. 17-18.

"We've checked and checked every lead on all these people," the sheriff said. "We've found no trace of any of them since."

Among the 13 were Robert J. Williams, 32, his wife and three children, Michael, 7, Christy, 3, and Steven, 11, of Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Williams was due back to work Monday as manager of the plumbing and building department of an Idaho Falls store. He did not report. Twenty-four hours before the quake he registered at Virginia City Museum near the center of the disaster.

Also on the list are Roger Provost, associate warden at Soladad, Calif., medium security prison, his wife and two sons.

His mother, Katherine Provost, Ontario, Calif., received the last word on a post card mailed Aug. 16 at West Yellowstone.

"We are camped on Madison River 30 miles from Yellowstone," Provost wrote. "It's a beautiful place. Fishing fair."

Millions of tons of rock and earth crashed down on that area, damming the river and forming a new lake.

The 13 include Dr. Merle Edgerton and wife, Edna, and Harmon Woods and wife, all of Coalinga, Calif., who were traveling together. Dr. Edgerton failed to return for appointments with patients a week after the quake. Relatives consider all four dead.

Only nine bodies were recovered from the fringes of the earthquake slides. The 19 missing are presumed to be buried in the mass of rock, timber and earth.

Chester Area To Lack Water During Project

Installation of a new fire hydrant on the west end of Montana Ave., Chester, will force a temporary suspension of water service to homes in that area Wednesday, Lewis Govey, water works superintendent, said today.

Homes along Montana Ave., George St., Line St. and 2nd St. from Indiana to Montana Aves. will be without water for 2 to 3 hours sometime between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m. tomorrow, Govey said.

Water pressure will be low for homes on the west end of Indiana and Louisiana Ave. while the water is turned off or diverted to permit the hydrant installation.

Govey could not say exactly when the water will be off because it depends upon when the crew locates the water main connection for the new plug.

A new hydrant was installed at 1st St. and Virginia Ave. Monday to replace one damaged Friday when struck by an auto.

Smiths Ferry Man Hurt Against Embankment

A 22-year-old Smiths Ferry man was injured when his car smashed into an embankment on the Smiths Ferry-Calcutta Rd. about 12:45 a. m. today.

Thomas C. Farmer was treated at City Hospital for multiple lacerations of the forehead received when his 1953 sedan left the road about three-tenths of a mile east of Calcutta.

Farmer, who said he fell asleep at the wheel, was charged with reckless operation. Officers said he was driving east, exceeding the speed limit, and lost control on a curve. The car veered left of center, then went off the right side of the road.

Farmer forfeited a $16 bond today in Municipal Court.

Damage was moderate, the patrol reported.

Firemen At Calcutta To Install New Siren

Plans for installing a new siren at the fire station were discussed when Calcutta volunteer firemen met Monday night. Nineteen attended.

Norman Neal, president, said a 5-horsepower siren will be installed on top of a 30-foot high section of 8-inch well casing. The siren will be co-ordinated with a new alarm system being completed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., he added.

Firemen agreed to enter a truck in a parade of Glenmoor volunteer firemen Friday and will operate a booth in a carnival. The next meeting is Sept. 14 due to Labor Day, Neal said.

Injuries Are Fatal

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Eugene Rohe, 61-year-old construction worker, died Monday night of injuries suffered Aug. 20 when a heavy fan fell on his head. Rohe, of Louisville, was injured while working on a project for the Rohe construction Co. in the Stark County community.

Lexington, Ky., was named in 1775 by a party of hunters who were encamped there when they received news about the Battle of Lexington.

Plea At Convention

Resolution Asks Teamsters Readmitted To AFL-CIO

CLEVELAND (AP) — A resolution urging the readmission of the Teamsters Union into the AFL-CIO was put before the convention of the International Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers of America which opened here Monday.

It referred for study to the resolutions committee, which will report back to the delegates later this week.

The resolution called on the convention to request the AFL-CIO executive council to consider "the matter of reestablishing a united labor movement" that would include the readmission of the teamsters union to the federation. The Teamsters were ousted by the AFL-CIO in 1957 on charges of corruption.

The resolution assailed what it termed government intervention of internal affairs of labor through "the means of restrictive legislation or congressional investigations."

"The only effective remedy for corruption, racketeering and other abuses must come from within the labor movement itself, based on the democratic action of the rank and file," it added.

Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio) told the convention that the National Assn. of Manufacturers and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce wrote the Landrum-Griffin labor reform bill. The measure, he said, was passed in the House of Representatives as a substitute bill without ever having been considered in any committee.

Young also told the delegates he would oppose any effort to permit Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to address a joint session of Congress during his visit to the country.

"This privilege," Young said, "should properly be received by Americans who have performed outstanding service to their country, visiting chiefs of state, leaders of friendly governments and the president of the United States."

"Khrushchev is not a chief of state nor a leader of a friendly government."

Halted Truck Drifts, Ripping Hood Of Auto

A halted truck drifted backward Monday at 2:10 p. m. at a traffic light at 5th and Market Sts. and its bed caused a large tear in the hood of a stopped auto directly to the rear, police said.

The drifting truck, driven by Emerson B. Wimer, 27, of the Y. & O. Rd., tore the hood of a 1953 sedan operated by Regina T. Fry, 45, of Detroit, police said. The woman driver told police both vehicles were halted for the signal. When the light changed, the truck drifted backward into the auto, she said.

Guards Begin School Duties

Ten adult school crossing guards hired by the city went on duty this morning as East Liverpool youngsters started the 1959-60 term.

In most cases, the staff is comprised of women who served at the same posts in the 1958-59 term. Their employment for the new term was made possible by a $1,950 appropriation provided by Council a week ago. The money is sufficient to meet the payroll for the part-time employees through Dec. 31.

The guards reported to City Hall Monday afternoon for instructions on their duties from the police department.

The guards and the schools they serve are: Mrs. Nanetta A. Toronto Motorist Draws $200 Fine

A Toronto motorist was fined for drunk driving and five other drivers forfeited bonds in Mayor William J. Shoub's court at Wells-ville Monday.

James O'Brian of Toronto R. D. 2 was fined $200 and costs and given 3 days in jail for drunk driving. He was arrested early Saturday morning at the intersection of Routes 7 and 45, Wells-ville police said.

Forfeiting bonds were Charles E. Twyford of E. 6th St., $20 for failure to halt in the assured clear distance; Lawrence McCuen of Newell, $10 for reckless operation; Q. V. Lucas of Rochester, N. Y., $15 for reckless operation; John H. Diddle of Wells-ville R. D. 1, $10 for passing over a yellow line, and Joe Mercer of Washington Ave., Wells-ville, $15 for speeding.

McCuen was arrested by Wells-ville police, the others by the State Highway Patrol.

City Man Held In Check Case

Jack Porter, 1137 Ohio Ave., was bound over to the Columbiana County Grand Jury under $500 bond today by Municipal Judge George L. Brokaw on a charge he issued a fraudulent $20 check June 12 to a collection agency.

The charge against Porter was signed by James J. McGowan, president of the Professional Mercantile Collection Co. It alleged that Porter drew the $20 check "on a non-existent account" at the Potters Bank & Trust Co. "with intent to defraud" the collection firm.

Porter told Judge Brokaw he had offered to make restitution for the bad check, but the judge commented that such an offer was no defense.

The judge remarked that the manner in which the charge was drawn gave the court the option of fining the defendant for a misdemeanor or holding him to the Grand Jury for a felony. Then he announced that Porter would be held to the Grand Jury. No testimony was taken.

Porter was taken into custody yesterday on McGowan's warrant, police said.

'Building Boom' Aired By Salineville Council

SALINEVILLE — The community's "building boom" was discussed informally at a meeting of Council Monday night.

It was pointed out some nine homes are under construction on Foundry Hill and Monroe Heights, including a new house being built by Dr. J. M. Nedelkoff.

Roy Beckwith, street supervisor, was instructed to obtain cinders for use on the streets this winter. Discussion was held about a small bridge in the West End.

Payment of bills was authorized.

Sinus Sufferers Get Fast, Continuous Relief With New "Hard-Core" Tablet!

Here's good news for sinus, hay fever and pollen allergy sufferers! A new tablet with an EXCLUSIVE FORMULA called SYNACLEAR acts instantly and continuously to drain and clear all nasal-sinus passages. One super tablet, with its new hard-core process does the job of 3 or 4 regular tablets. The coated layer around the "Hard-Core" dissolves first, placing soothing medication in the blood stream, where it is instantly carried to the pained, pressure congested area. Pressures are reduced almost immediately. Then the exclusive "hard-core" process begins. It dissolves the tablet slowly and continuously up to 8 hours allowing you to breathe easily for longer periods of time! SYNACLEAR is now available at all drug counters, without need for a prescription. It contains a combination of medically proven decongestant ingredients doctors often prescribe to help shrink swollen, irritated membranes and promote drainage of nasal-sinus cavities. Buy and use SYNACLEAR Decongestant Tablets today! They're guaranteed to relieve pained, pressure congested sinus areas or your purchase price will be refunded by the maker. Get SYNACLEAR at BLOOR'S PHARMACY.

Deaths and Funerals

Giuseppe Rini Claimed At 79

Giuseppe Rini, 1235 Center St., Wellsville, a retired barber, died Monday at 9 p. m. at City Hospital, where he had been a patient since July 9. He was 79.

Mr. Rini was born Jan. 22, 1880, at Ventimiglia, Italy, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Rini. He came to the United States 65 years ago, settling first in Chicago. He moved to Wellsville 47 years ago, operating a barbershop until retiring 3 years ago because of ill health. His shop was at 13th and Center Sts.

Mr. Rini had resided with a niece, Mrs. Anthony Sorge, for several years. He was a member of the First Methodist Church and the Men's Bible Class of the church.

Survivors include another niece and five nephews.

Services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the MacLean Funeral Home by the Rev. Arden R. Beck. Burial will be in Springhill Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight and Wednesday afternoon and evening.

Infant Martin

Carol Sue Martin, infant daughter of Elzie J. Martin Jr. and Shirley Clovis Martin, 147 Virginia Ave., Chester died Monday afternoon at 1:30 in the North Wheeling Hospital, where she was born Saturday.

Besides her parents, survivors include two sisters, Miss Patricia Ilene Martin and Miss Rebecca Ann Martin, her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elzie R. Martin and the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie L. Crawford.

Services will be held Wednesday morning at 10 in the Stewart & Turley Funeral Home in New Cumberland. Burial will be in Union Cemetery in Pughtown. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Henry Thurman

Interment will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park for Henry T. Thurman, 64, of Shadyside Ave., who died Sunday at City Hospital after a long illness.

Services will be conducted Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. at the Dawson Funeral Home by Elder Ed Campbell.

Mr. Thurman was a water tender in No. 3 boiler house at the Midland Works of the Crucible

Officials of United Tool & Die Co. reported that its employees agreed to work past the contract deadline. Their working agreement also expired at midnight.

Union membership approved a company proposal to work until 60 days after the basic steel industry settles its strike.

Members of Local 1538, USW, at the local Youngstown Kitchens plant accepted Sunday a management proposal which extends their strike deadline from midnight to 60 days after the end of the steel strike.

The agreement between the Deming Co. and its workers runs out at midnight Nov. 1 and the contract with Electric Furnace Co. expires at midnight Nov. 14.

900 Bliss Workers

Strike Plant At Canton

CANTON — Some 900 employees of the E. W. Bliss Co. were idled today by a strike, after the company failed to reach agreement with the United Steelworkers Union on a new contract.

The contract expired at midnight.

John S. Johns, USW district director, said seniority was the major issue in the strike.

At the United Foundry & Engineering Co., a last-minute contract extension before midnight deadline avoided a scheduled strike. Johns said the foundry contract will be in effect 30 days beyond whatever date the basic steel strike is settled. The steel industry strike now is seven weeks old.

Some 565 employees of Bliss plants at Midland and Pittsburgh have been idle since midnight July 31, after failure of negotiations for new contracts.

They are the Mackintosh-Hempill plant at Midland and the Garrison Plant at Pittsburgh.

Steelworkers Official Visits Midland Pickets

Howard Hague, international vice president of the United Steelworkers Union, visited picket lines of Local 1212 Monday afternoon at the 6th St. entrance of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

Over 100 steelworkers were on hand to greet Hague, including Joe D'Alesio, Local 1212 president, James Mullen of East Liverpool, staff representative, and other officers and members of the local.

Hague was accompanied by Kay Klutz, acting director of the unions District 20, and also visited Ambridge, Aliquippa, Monaca, Beaver Falls and New Brighton.

Columbiana Concern, Union Extend Pact

SALEM — Local 523 of the United Brick & Clay Workers, voted 85-15 Monday afternoon to continue working past the midnight expiration of their contract with the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Co. in nearby Columbiana, H. Howard Stouffer, union president, said today.

Accepted by the strong majority was a plan to work on a day-to-day basis with a requirement of a 10-day notice before breaking off talks on a new contract. This is the second contract being sought by the new union.

The union is seeking a pay boost of about 20 per cent and improved fringe benefits such as better hospitalization and plant-wide seniority, Stouffer said.

Stouffer said he believes the union was "very fortunate that they agreed to the extension" of the present working contract. The Columbiana local is waiting for an industry-wide settlement by other unions.

Then they will ask the company to follow the trend of other firms manufacturing the high-temperature firebricks for the basic steel industry, Stouffer said.

Schools

show up Wednesday, boosting the school population over the 2,100 mark.

Some 2,150 youngsters were expected for the first term enrollment.

A total of 521 reported for the first day session at the high school, up from the 492 of last year and more than anticipated.

There were 689 pupils at the Public School, also an increase over last year, but not as many as expected, George VanHorne, executive head, reported.

Calcutta School's enrollment was 417, up slightly from last year, and Rogers School had 153, also up as predicted. Elkton School reported 115 students, down some from last year.

West Point School enrolled 134, about the same as last year. Oak Grove School had 55 students.

The school district will continue on Daylight Saving Time until Sept. 27.

2 Midland Schools

Report On Enrollment

Classes resumed in four Midland public schools this morning with the first day operation reported "smooth."

Although official attendance figures have not been compiled, the 1st St. School reported 209 and 4th St. School listed approximately 270. A total of roughly 1,400 were enrolled in the four buildings last year.

The Presentation Parochial School resumes Wednesday.

South Side Joint Schools near Hookstown and the Western Beaver County system in Ohio and Industry Townships will open for classes Wednesday.

1,043 At Opening Of Southern Local

The first morning enrollment at Southern Local's five schools totaled 1,043, with additional students expected to return Wednesday.

An enrollment of about 1,050 to 1,100 had been predicted.

Jack Baker, executive head, said the student population is about the same as last year, with the exception of the loss of the Fairview School at Hillcrest, transferred to Wellsville.

There were 226 pupils at Salineville High School, 353 at the Salineville grade school, 161 at Highlandtown, 167 at No. 16 and 136 at Wayne School, which was up slightly.

The district's 12 buses were being inspected today and Wednesday at Highlandtown.

A Southern Local Teachers' Association was formed Monday at a meeting of the teachers of the district. Richard Jones, high school history teacher and coach, was elected president.

Jack Randolph of Wayne School was elected vice president. Mrs. Edna Duncan of No. 16, secretary, and Mrs. Gladys Boyd of Highlandtown, treasurer.

Mrs. Hazel Baker of Salineville was named representative to the Columbiana County Education Association executive committee.

Some 5,500 pupils throughout the county system were to report to classes today for full-day sessions.

At New Waterford and Fairfield schools, students were on Eastern Standard Time schedules, but other county schools were slated to return to "slow" time Sept. 27.

British-owned Statesman of Calcutta and New Delhi.

It said the army chief of staff, Lt. Gen. K.S. Thimayya, had decided to resign after repeated differences with Menon and that navy and air force commanders likely would do likewise.

The paper said Thimayya had accused Menon, one of Nehru's most trusted aides, of promoting junior officers over their seniors and of injecting politics into the Defense Ministry.

Newsmen inquiring for Thimayya were told he was in conference. There was a similar response from the office of Vice Adm. R.D. Katari, the navy chief of staff. The air force chief, Air Vice Marshal S. Mukherji, is in London.

Anxiety over the situation on the northern frontier was heightened by a report that a force of nearly 400 armed Red Chinese had occupied several square miles inside the Himalayan state of Bhutan, a protectorate of India.

Another report said a Red Chinese patrol had crossed into the protectorate state of Sikkim, adjoining Bhutan, and has been arrested by police there.

There was no official confirmation of the reports, which came from usually well informed in Darjeeling, in the foothills southwest of Bhutan.

Nehru told Parliament last week that Indian would defend both Bhutan and Sikkim. But Monday the Prime Minister made clear he planned no immediate military action to expel Chinese troops who have taken up positions inside the Indian border in the Northeast Frontier area and in the Ladakh sector of Kashmir. Bhutan and Sikkim lie between the two threatened areas of India.

2 Men Receive Injury On Job

Two men injured at work and a brother and sister hurt in separate accidents were among 10 adults and youngsters treated at City Hospital Monday.

Harold Plum, 34, of Newell, employee of the Megdal Furniture Co., suffered a knee injury when a refrigerator fell against his leg.

Clyde Kirschner, 29, of Dewey Ave. Ext. received a laceration of the left hand on a sagger at the Homer Laughlin China Co.

Harold Smith, 13, of Bloomfield received a fractured foot when he stamped on a bicycle pedal. Shirley Smith, 5, his sister, was treated later for a puncture wound of the right foot suffered when she stepped on a nail.

Mrs. Mary Alice Fouse, 230 Carolina Ave., was treated last night for a cut of the left hand received while washing a glass.

In a fall, Sandra Crouse, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crouse of Wooster Ave., suffered a cut of the knee.

Keith Quimby, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Quimby, 131 Beechwood Ave., received a fractured left arm in a fall at play.

In a fall while riding a bicycle, Nancy Morrow, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morrow of Shippingport, suffered a cut of the left knee.

John Ross, 36, of Woodbine Ave. was treated for a wound of the right hand received when bitten by a dog at home.

Charles Watson, 30, of 7th Ave., LaCroft, suffered a cut of the right index finger on a hand saw.

strating the soundness of his side's position.

He said the construction site issue was the "biggest stumbling block" left in the conference, and added he hoped the Republican conferees would follow Mitchell's position.

Such picketing involves a secondary boycott because subcontractors not involved in a dispute often are shut down if a union pickets one employer on the job.

On the second key issue, the Senate majority wants organizational picketing permitted indefinitely if the employer has committed any unfair labor practice. The House side argues that such a right should be given only if the employer has entered into a collusive or sweetheart type of contract with another union.

Poles Given Apology For Nazi Aggression

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer marked the 20th anniversary today of Hitler's invasion of Poland with an apology to the Poles for the Nazi aggression. He expressed belief that "the new Germany will one day be a good neighbor of Poland."

The 83-year-old chancellor broadcast his message of peace and friendship Monday night.

His remarks reflected the new friendly attitude he has adopted toward Communist East Europe since he talked with President Eisenhower last week.

Wearing a formal length gown, of bridal satin and Chantilly lace, which she designed and made, Miss Jean Adele Fortune of Clearwater, Fla., former Irondale resident, became the bride of Lester Allen Wells, also of Clearwater, on Aug. 22.

The double ring ceremony at 5:30 o'clock in the Trinity Presbyterian Church of Clearwater was performed by the Rev. Hugh Powell, pastor.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lasandro Fortune, formerly of Irondale and Wellsville, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Homer Cole of Clearwater.

Miss Charlotte Urie of Wellsville, cousin of the bride, was a maid of honor and Miss Shirley Fortune, sister of the bride, served as bridesmaid.

Mrs. Martha Lashley of Wellsville, aunt of the bride, was one of the aides at the reception. E. Warren Urie of Wellsville attended the nuptials.

Chester Church Acquires 4 Lots

The Chester Church of Christ has purchased four lots in Lawrenceville for possible future construction, officials of the church at Virginia Ave. and 2nd St. disclosed today.

The parcel was bought from Donald Shaw of Chester for $1,500. Cecil O. Dotson, minister, said there are no definite plans for construction on the site, but if continued growth of the congregation and the Lawrenceville area warrants, a church and parsonage may be built.

"The church is looking to the future," he said. "Our present building is overflowing at times, and we have to set up chairs." He said tent meetings were held at the Lawrenceville site the past two years.

We have a lot of Lawrenceville members," he commented, adding if Chester's growth continues in that direction it is possible a structure would be erected.

Palestine Pedestrian Struck Down By Auto

EAST PALESTINE - Mrs. Laura Hulton Taylor, 36, of R. D. 2 is in "fair" condition today at Salem City Hospital with severe head injuries suffered when struck by a car while crossing N. Market St. Monday afternoon at 12:50.

Police said Mrs. Taylor started crossing the street in front of both north- and south-bound cars. She apparently became confused and darted into the path of a car driven by William J. Schwartz, 18, of Beaver Falls R. D. 2.

Mrs. Taylor was taken to the hospital in the fire department's first aid car.

Mrs. Bessie McDole testified in Municipal Court this morning that her husband, Donald McDole of near Midland Heights, attempted to enter her home and then "grabbed me by the ankle and hit me in the stomach." She filed the assault charge.

Judge George L. Brokaw fined McDole $10 and costs for intoxication but dismissed the assault charge on payment of $6 costs. Police said McDole was taken into custody at 6:43 this morning on W. 8th St.

How Can I
By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make my own "homemade" remedy for freckles?
A. The application of buttermilk several times a day to the face and hands helps to bleach freckles out. And, of course, your best preventive is to avoid over-exposure to the sun's rays.

Q. How can I facilitate the picking up of the numerous threads that have been scattered on the rug while sewing?
A. Dip a broom in clean water, shake it well, then brush lightly over the rug.

Q. How can I clean the stains of iced tea or milk from glass straws?
A. Use pipe cleaners. Keep a package on hand for this purpose. Then your straws will be bright on the inside as well as the outside.

House Numbering Proposal Presented St. Clair Trustees

A uniform house numbering system, proposed for St. Clair and other townships, was presented at a meeting of the St. Clair Township trustees Monday night.

William Black of the Calcutta Area Development Association presented a map of the proposed grid numbering system for the district, and explained its advantages.

The trustees expressed approval of the system, and agreed to invite county commissioners and trustees from Liverpool, Madison and Middleton Townships to a meeting of the association Oct. 5 at the Calcutta fire station to study the plan.

The grid numbering system, applicable to the whole county, would be based in this district on numbers starting in East Liverpool, and marked out in uniform distances, based on sections.

In other action, Constable Clarence Blosser, whose constable status ends Nov. 6, was appointed a police constable from Nov. 6 through Dec. 31 under the new police constable system.

An application for appointment to police constable was filed by Paul Buzzard. Police Constable Harry Skelton was granted permission to police the Glenmoor firemen's fair this week.

The road improvement program was explained to Gilbert Jolly and Clifford Stone of Maple Ln. Costs of the 5-year plan were estimated at 4 cents a foot for oil and gravel treatment in the first 2 years, 14 cents a foot the third year, 16 cents the fourth and 18 cents the fifth when the blademix treatments are used.

William Young, road foreman, was given permission to take his two-week vacation starting Monday.

The trustees will meet Saturday instead of Monday because of the Labor Day holiday.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY MEYERS

Advice For The Working Mother

According to the Children's Bureau, there were in 1958 seven and one-half million working mothers in the United States—30 out of every 100 women with one or more children under 18 in her care. There were at least 3,600,000 preschool children whose mothers were in the labor force in that year. Almost 400,000 children had to care for themselves while their mothers worked. Of these, 138,000 were under 10. In the age group of 10 and 11, one in five was without any care while his mother was at work. Presumably, working mothers who have only preschool children feel obliged to provide care for these children. These mothers are under strong social pressures to do so.

By Garry Meyers

INDEED most of what we hear or read is limited to the care of the preschool child while his mother works. Not so strong pressures for care of the school-age child is felt by the working mothers.

Fortunately, when both parents work, one may be home before and after school. Besides, a growing number of mothers are employed for less than eight hours a day. But thousands and thousands of children of elementary school age are left at home for an hour or more after both parents leave for work in the morning or before they return home in the evening.

At such times, these children often fend for themselves. Sometimes their neighbors, feeling sorry for these neglected children, take them in, often at considerable inconvenience. When such kind neighbors are available, the working parent should render due compensation.

OBVIOUSLY there are physical and moral dangers to the child who, day after day, must spend a few hours when no adult is home. While these dangers usually are greater for the child 6 or 7 than the child of 14 or 15, they may exist at all age levels. Besides, even a teen-ager likes to find a parent home when he returns from school. When the child, say, from 8 to 15, sees that the mother works from necessity, especially when she's the only breadwinner for the family, these children, if they have fine relations with their mother, may be induced by her to take on home responsibilities, busying themselves most of the time before her arrival home at doing house-work she otherwise would have to do.

While all children of school age should do regular home chores, there's more reason that they should if the mother works. But she best cultivates in them the taking of such responsibilities during the hours she is at home with them.

MOTHERS who are sure they must work, especially if the father also is employed, should feel an obligation to the community, school and children to hire a responsible person to be in the home during their absence while the children are there.

Mothers who don't work should also regulate their program so as to be home practically always when their children return from school.

My bulletins "Working Mothers" and "How to Teach Child to Help at Home" may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

Here Are The Main Trends From New Paris Fashions

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP)—The new Paris fashions for fall are short and they are long. They are conventional, and they are eccentric.

Today pictures of the new creations can be published, and the public can take its pick. To protect themselves from commercial copyists, Paris fashion houses ban photos of their new styles until models are safely in the hands of buyers.

Now you can see what all the fuss was about when fashion writers got first peek at the shows more than a month ago. Dior's knee-high skirts were the sensation of the season. Lanvin's long hems were the biggest letdown.

But now the pictures prove that hems have not gone above the knee, as some alarmists cried. In Dior's shortest extremes, a mannequin can just manage to show all her kneecap if she cocks her leg at a provocative angle. The happy medium is two or three inches below the knee.

By now the partisans have made their choice: Elizabeth Taylor likes Dior's short skirts and has bought 10 of them. Barbara Hutton has gone for Lanvin's long look in an even bigger way. The Duchess of Windsor has said she won't wear them that short, and designer Yves Saint-Lauren's mother has said she will. Proving that mother love is something special.

The duchess also said, as she arose with a sigh from her spindly gold chair at the Dior opening, "That's the hardest thing I ever sat on." A thousand fashion writers have sighed the same sigh every fashion season.

From the thousands of models shown, here are the main trends: Fairly slim tube dresses for day wear—Heim called his silhouette the "test tube."

Brocade or lame suits for cocktail and dinner time—Chanel and Balmain showed some of the best of these.

New color shadings that melt from pale at the shoulder to deep hues at the hem—Cardin can claim a monopoly on these, but the idea is sure to spread.

Tunic effects—everybody did them.

Warmly lined but sleeveless over-vests—a bright idea of Guy Laroche.

Elbow-length bell sleeves—designed by Jules Grubway in Nina Ricci collection.

All the designers went for black, brown, grey and beige for day wear. Hairy or tree-bark woollens for suits and coats were equalled in popularity by satin and velvet for evening.

American buyers bought more than ever before in Paris this season, but Jacques Heim, president of the high fashion syndicate, says it's still only a drop in the bucket compared to what they make out of reproducing French styles.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a sensible young lady, 18, and in nurse's training. I've been going steady with a fellow 22.

Before he came along I dated many men. One day I realized I wasn't working toward a permanent relationship with anyone. Since this particular fellow seems like the best of the lot I decided to concentrate on him.

He sensed my special interest and immediately suggested I stop dating the others. He said I was the type of girl he'd always wanted. Now I'm wondering — wanted — for what?

He treats me coldly when others are present. He almost belittles me, you might say. When I broach the subject of marriage, he skillfully changes the topic. He gets furious when I hint that I may date someone else. Yet he studiously avoids committing himself. What's the next step? — DANGLING.

Dear Dangling: You're only 18. Toots. What's the big hurry to beat a commitment out of anybody? In your attempt to tie up this fellow you've become pretty well tangled in the ropes. Has the calf killed the butcher?

Unwind and enjoy the sweet flavor of freedom until you're mature enough to think about a permanent relationship.

He Who Got Left

Dear Ann: I'm the father of eight children. I planned on a vacation this fall with the whole family. My wife agreed it would be fun. Then her cousin, whom I never liked, wrote and invited my wife to spend a couple weeks with her. She took the three youngest kids and left.

Our oldest girl is 14 and she and I have been doing the cooking and housework. I'm a painter and pretty tired when I get home. I'm mad at my wife for taking off like this without considering me. I wrote her that when she gets back I'm going fishing by myself for two weeks. Her reply was, "You want to go alone, because you're taking a woman."

Do you think I'm entitled to this vacation by myself? — DAD.

Dear Dad: I do indeed. Your wife had no right to go off and leave you with five children after she had agreed to a family-type vacation. Any chance of taking the five kids who were left home?

Too Late For Tears

Dear Ann: What can we do about a headstrong daughter who is 21 and tells us she can do as she pleases?

In November she comes into $7,000 from her grandfather's estate.

There are no strings on this money. She gets it all at once. Mae quit high school at 16 to "go on the stage." That didn't pan out so she worked on a steamship as a stateroom maid and went all over the world. For six months we didn't even know where she was.

Last night she announced she'll marry as soon as she gets her money. We don't know the man but he's waiting for a divorce. She's making plans for an elaborate wedding which we can't afford. She says she'll pay for it out of her inheritance if we won't. What can we do? — DOROTHY.

Dear Dorothy: If you couldn't do anything with Mae when she was 16 why are you surprised you can't handle her at 21?

Tell her precisely the kind of wedding you can afford and make it plain that beyond that, it's on her. Also explain that if she blows her inheritance she can expect no financial lift from you.

Confidentially

TO MAVERICK: Soap and water is cheap. Tell him he can be "best" and hygienic, too.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

He was born at Port Huron, Mich.

Man To Answer Charges Today In Attack Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — Charles Thomas Crawford goes to police court today to answer charges he raped a 6-year-old girl and jammed her into a running refrigerator.

Police filed charges of rape and assault to kill against Crawford Monday.

500 bond on each of the two charges. The girl was revived at General Hospital where doctors said she probably survived because the refrigerator leaked air and because the cold and her cramped position made her body need less oxygen.

Weary Of Heavy Drama

Belafonte Eyes Light Side

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Are you a bit weary of heavy dramas showing the Negro in violent conflict with the white world?

Well, so is Harry Belafonte. "There have been too many lately," he said. "I'd like to be in a Cary Grant type of picture—something light and frothy."

"It seems to me audiences would welcome a Negro in an easygoing, delicious, humorous story. I'm not talking about the Amos and Andy kind of thing, but something more sophisticated—about an average guy with an average job in an average situation, but one filled with humor."

Belafonte, who has been acclaimed as one of the greatest Negro performers of his generation, made it clear he wasn't forsaking the area of heavy drama altogether.

One of his goals is to produce and star in a life of Alexander Pushkin, the father of Russian literature, who was part Negro.

"I'm lucky—I can afford to be selective," said Belafonte, whose gross income is reported to be in the pleasant neighborhood of a million dollars a year.

"I'm fortunate in that I can make my living in television, concerts and my record albums. This gives me a free hand in picking movie roles."

Unlike some earlier stars of his race, Belafonte hasn't become embittered by success.

"Racial conflict is not a major part of my personal life, but it still of course is a major part of my social life," he said.

"I can choose whom I want to meet and be with — and Gov.

Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas isn't one of them.

"I am angry about many things but I am bitter at none, because I see progress being made. If it weren't for that progress, I'd probably be very bitter, too."

At 32, he says his biggest worry is he won't live long enough to do all the things he wants to.

Belafonte would like to be a top dancer, top writer, top painter, top sculptor.

"I feel a tremendous frustration if I do a thing wrong, a tremendous elation when I do it right."

Belafonte, who has been married twice, has three children.

"To me, children are the most important thing in life," he said.

"There isn't anything in my career, done or undone, that means half as much to me as they do."

Minister Returns From Conference

The Rev. Carl Beighley, pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church, was among 11 from the Steubenville district who attended the National Convocation of Methodist Youth at Purdue University in West Lafayette, Ind., last week.

Seventy-four attended from the North-East Ohio Conference and the overall attendance was approximately 6,500.

Remarks were given by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Harold Stassen and Nirmal Chaudhuri, a representative of the United Nations.

Key speakers included Dr. Melvin Wheatley of the Westwood Methodist Church, of Los Angeles; Carl Michelson, professor of Systematic Theological Seminary in North Carolina, and Dr. Chester A. Pennington of the Hennepin Ave., Methodist Church in Minneapolis.

A panel discussion was conducted by Dr. Theodore Gill, president of the San Francisco Theological Seminary.

Bishop Richard C. Raines of the Indiana area Methodist Church, conducted the morning services and communion.

Music was provided by the Dave Brubeck Quartet, Columbia recording artists, and the Southern Methodist University Chorus.

Money Mailed Brothers Baffling To Police

CINCINNATI (AP)—How would you like to open a letter and find $260 in brand new $10 bills? Or open another one and find $65 in new folding money?

Ed Brinkman and his brother-in-law, Charles Roth, got the letters, mailed in plain envelopes. The bills bore consecutive numbers. Brinkman's envelope contained the most money.

They called police, who will ask the Federal Reserve system where the bills came from originally.

Police say there has not been any bank robbery hereabouts.

Supervisor Suspended

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The game management supervisor of the Ohio Division of Wildlife's district office at Athens has been suspended for two weeks and may be reassigned to another post. Hayden W. Olds, division chief, said the suspension of Jim Lee and his probable reassignment are due to a series of conflicts with Matt Wright, the division's area manager. Olds said the conflicts involved "policy, program and personalities."

2 Little Boys Find Gems Worth $1,000

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bob Brickman, 8, thought the little pieces of glass lying in the alley were real pretty. His pal, Mel Hall, 11, thought so too. So did a startled jeweler Monday night when the boys brought in $1,000 worth of unset diamonds and asked him what they were.

Police have the gems but don't know of any diamond theft or loss. If unclaimed the boys will have some diamonds.

Marietta Airman Must Serve Term

IZMIR, Turkey (AP)—Air Force Sgt. John Brown, 21, of 205 Gibson St., Marietta, Ohio, must serve the jail sentence and fine imposed upon him for attempting to sell American dollars on Turkey's black market.

Turkey's Appeals Court has upheld a lower court which on March 16 sentenced the U.S. airman to five months and 25 days in jail and fined him 833 lira ($92.50).

Last July, Brown was sentenced to six more months in jail, three years' banishment, three years' probation and fined 400 lira ($44.40) for attempting to sell smuggled nylon goods on the black market. That sentence is being appealed.

Under Turkish law, Brown would be able to move about freely in his place of banishment—Eskisehir, midway between Istanbul and Ankara—but cannot leave that area.

Movie 'Ghost Village' Destroyed By Blaze

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—New England Square—a village where nobody lived — died Monday in a three-alarm fire.

Fourteen false-front buildings, seen in 100 films in 25 years of movie-making, were destroyed when flames spread through the big movie set on the back lot of 20th Century-Fox. The loss was estimated at $100,000.

The set dated to Will Rogers' days there. In recent years it had been used for scenes in "Peyton Place," "Rally Round the Flag Boys" and "Blue Denim."

No one was injured. Cause of the fire is unknown.

Prince Hall Masons Award Degrees For 4

Four candidates received the master mason degree at a special meeting Sunday of John Washington Masonic Lodge #2, Prince Hall Affiliated.

The degrees were conferred by Byron Carter, worshipful master. Guests included Matthew Dempsey, Pennsylvania 10th District deputy grand master, and Ozell Suggs, past worshipful master of Ohio Valley Lodge III of Midland.

A regular meeting will be held tonight at 8 at the IBOP Hall.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a sensible young lady, 18, and in nurse's training. I've been going steady with a fellow 22.

Before he came along I dated many men. One day I realized I wasn't working toward a permanent relationship with anyone. Since this particular fellow seems like the best of the lot I decided to concentrate on him.

He sensed my special interest and immediately suggested I stop dating the others. He said I was the type of girl he'd always wanted. Now I'm wondering — wanted—for what?

He treats me coldly when others are present. He almost belittles me, you might say. When I broach the subject of marriage, he skillfully changes the topic. He gets furious when I hint that I may date someone else. Yet he studiously avoids committing himself. What's the next step? — DANGLING.

Dear Dangling: You're only 18. Toots. What's the big hurry to beat a commitment out of anybody? In your attempt to tie up this fellow you've become pretty well tangled in the ropes. Has the calf killed the butcher?

Unwind and enjoy the sweet flavor of freedom until you're mature enough to think about a permanent relationship.

He Who Got Left

Dear Ann: I'm the father of eight children. I planned on a vacation this fall with the whole family. My wife agreed it would be fun. Then her cousin, whom I never liked, wrote and invited my wife to spend a couple weeks with her. She took the three youngest kids and left.

Our oldest girl is 14 and she and I have been doing the cooking and housework. I'm a painter and pretty tired when I get home. I'm mad at my wife for taking off like this without considering me. I wrote her that when she gets back I'm going fishing by myself for two weeks. Her reply was, "You want to go alone because you're taking a woman."

Do you think I'm entitled to this vacation by myself? — DAD.

Dear Dad: I do indeed. Your wife had no right to go off and leave you with five children after she had agreed to a family-type vacation. Any chance of taking the five kids who were left home?

Too Late For Tears

Dear Ann: What can we do about a headstrong daughter who is 21 and tells us she can do as she pleases?

In November she comes into $7,000 from her grandfather's estate.

There are no strings on this money. She gets it all at once. Mae quit high school at 16 to "go on the stage." That didn't pan out so she worked on a steamship as a stateroom maid and went all over the world. For six months we didn't even know where she was.

Last night she announced she'll marry as soon as she gets her money. We don't know the man but he's waiting for a divorce. She's making plans for an elaborate wedding which we can't afford. She says she'll pay for it out of her inheritance if we won't. What can we do? — DOROTHY.

Dear Dorothy: If you couldn't do anything with Mae when she was 16 why are you surprised you can't handle her at 21?

Tell her precisely the kind of wedding you can afford and make it plain that beyond that, it's on her. Also explain that if she blows her inheritance she can expect no financial lift from you.

Confidentially

TO MAVERICK: Soap and water is cheap. Tell him he can be "best" and hygienic, too.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Parish Picnic Will Be Held At Salineville

Amusement rides, a roast beef dinner and various concessions will be featured at the annual Homecoming and Labor Day picnic of the St. Patrick's Catholic Church Saturday through Monday at Salineville.

The dinner will be served Monday from noon to 6 p. m. The concessions will include a country store and novelty booths. The public is invited, according to Fr. Homer G. Oliver, who said proceeds will be used for the church building fund.

Seaman Robert McCloskey returned to the Bainbridge (Md.) Naval Training Station Sunday after a weekend visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCloskey, of E. Main St.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Winters and daughter, Joyce Ann, of Market St., visited at Cleveland Saturday. Mrs. Georgia McGilvary and son and Mrs. Rosemary Smith and daughter of Schoolhouse Hill visited at Midland Friday.

Mrs. Angie Chickiris, Fritz Morrow, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rhodes and family, Glenn Madison and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sweeney visited at Lisbon Saturday.

Mrs. Mary McCloskey of E. Main St. has been returned from City Hospital following an operation.

Mrs. Della Meredith of E. Main St. is convalescing at the home of Miss Marjorie Haines of E. Main St. following an operation at City Hospital.

Tena Madison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Madison of Lorain St., is ill.

AEC Figure Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold S. Vance, 69, an atomic energy commissioner since 1955, died Monday from acute pneumonia following an abdominal operation. Before he joined the AEC, Vance was chairman of the executive committee of the Studebaker-Packard Corp. He had been with the company since 1911 and retired as president in 1954. He was born at Port Huron, Mich.

Man To Answer Charges Today In Attack Case

CINCINNATI (AP) — Charles Thomas Crawford goes to police court today to answer charges he raped a 6-year-old girl and jammed her into a running refrigerator.

Police filed charges of rape and assault to kill against Crawford Monday.

He was arrested after little Debby Tucker was found Sunday by her stepfather, Kenneth Spangler, 24, in the running refrigerator in an unused apartment in the same building where the Spanglers live. Crawford, 21, was held on $2,500 bond on each of the two charges.

The girl was revived at General Hospital where doctors said she probably survived because the refrigerator leaked air and because the cold and her cramped position made her need less oxygen.

Pesky Mosquitos Now Under Control Groups

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Okay, you pesky mosquitos — you win. They're throwing in the towel. State Sen. Charles W. Sandman, bowing to the inevitable, has introduced a bill to change the title of county mosquito extermination commissions to county mosquito control commissions.

Weary Of Heavy Drama

Belafonte Eyes Light Side

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Are you a bit weary of heavy dramas showing the Negro in violent conflict with the white world?

Well, so is Harry Belafonte. "There have been too many lately," he said. "I'd like to be in a Cary Grant type of picture—something light and frothy."

"It seems to me audiences would welcome a Negro in an easygoing, delicious, humorous story. I'm not talking about the Amos and Andy kind of thing, but something more sophisticated—about an average guy with an average job in an average situation, but one filled with humor."

Belafonte, who has been acclaimed as one of the greatest Negro performers of his generation, made it clear he wasn't forsaking the area of heavy drama altogether.

One of his goals is to produce and star in a life of Alexander Pushkin, the father of Russian literature, who was part Negro. "I'm lucky—I can afford to be selective," said Belafonte, whose gross income is reported to be in the pleasant neighborhood of a million dollars a year.

"I'm fortunate in that I can make my living in television, concerts and my record albums. This gives me a free hand in picking movie roles."

Unlike some earlier stars of his race, Belafonte hasn't become embittered by success.

"Racial conflict is not a major part of my personal life, but it still of course is a major part of my social life," he said.

"I can choose whom I want to meet and be with — and Gov.

Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas isn't one of them.

"I am angry about many things but I am bitter at none, because I see progress being made. If it weren't for that progress, I'd probably be very bitter, too."

At 32, he says his biggest worry is he won't live long enough to do all the things he wants to.

Belafonte would like to be a top dancer, top writer, top painter, top sculptor.

"I feel a tremendous frustration if I do a thing wrong, a tremendous elation when I do it right."

Belafonte, who has been married twice, has three children.

"To me, children are the most important thing in life," he said. "There isn't anything in my career, done or undone, that means half as much to me as they do."

Minister Returns From Conference

The Rev. Carl Beighley, pastor of the Calvary Methodist Church, was among 11 from the Steubenville district who attended the National Convocation of Methodist Youth at Purdue University in West Lafayette, Ind., last week.

Seventy-four attended from the North-East Ohio Conference and the overall attendance was approximately 6,500.

Remarks were given by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Harold Stassen and Nirmal Chaudhuri, a representative of the United Nations. Key speakers included Dr. Melvin Wheatley of the Westwood Methodist Church, of Los Angeles; Carl Michelson, professor of Systematic Theological Seminary in North Carolina, and Dr. Chester A. Pennington of the Hennepin Ave., Methodist Church in Minneapolis.

A panel discussion was conducted by Dr. Theodore Gill, president of the San Francisco Theological Seminary.

Bishop Richard C. Raines of the Indiana area Methodist Church, conducted the morning services and communion.

Music was provided by the Dave Brubeck Quartet, Columbia recording artists, and the Southern Methodist University Chorus.

Money Mailed Brothers Baffling To Police

CINCINNATI (AP)—How would you like to open a letter and find $260 in brand new $10 bills? Or open another one and find $65 in new folding money?

Ed Brinkman and his brother-in-law, Charles Roth, got the letters, mailed in plain envelopes. The bills bore consecutive numbers. Brinkman's envelope contained the most money.

They called police, who will ask the Federal Reserve system where the bills came from originally.

Police say there has not been any bank robbery hereabouts.

Supervisor Suspended

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The game management supervisor of the Ohio Division of Wildlife's district office at Athens has been suspended for two weeks and may be reassigned to another post. Hayden W. Olds, division chief, said the suspension of Jim Lee and his probable reassignment are due to a series of conflicts with Matt Wright, the division's area manager. Olds said the conflicts involved "policy, program and personalities."

Lack Of Depth Appears Major Problem In Potter Picture

Venditti Sees His First Unit As 'Good One'

By BOB DUFFY

Review Sports Editor

After watching the Potters drill for two weeks, head coach Lou Venditti has found several pleasant "surprises", but added this note of caution: "We have a good first unit, but there is no depth this season."

Whether major injuries can be avoided will go a long way in determining the success of the campaign. When Venditti went over the starting lineup, he said that 9 of the 11 offensive starters will go both ways, doubling up on defense.

When the Potter mentor mentioned "surprises" he was thinking particularly of Henry Roach, a 150-pound halfback, and Ron Prince, a 155-pounder, holding down an end position.

"RIGHT NOW, Roach is the best running back we have," Venditti said. "In a week's time, Roach has moved from the fourth team to the first team and he was very impressive in the scrimmage at Campbell." Venditti added.

"Prince has looked real good at end and the surprising thing is that he has shown leadership ability—something we have been lacking the past few years," Venditti pointed out.

"We're pretty well set at ends, with Tim Archer on the other side. Tim is one of those glue-fingered ends." "Our big problem is at center," Venditti said.

Bob Montgomery, who was being counted on to handle the center post, suffered a slight concussion the other day but should be back shortly.

"We have been using a sophomore, Jim Ferello, at center along with Dick Davis, another sophomore."

CRAIG BURBICK, a 185-pounder, returning for his third year of varsity ball, will be at one of the tackle spots and Skip Hall, a junior, who goes about 170, will be at the other.

Venditti had thought of moving Burbick to end until Prince and Archer showed up so well at the terminal posts.

Charlie Davidson (165) and Jim Bise (160) have been doing a real good job at guards, the Potter coach declared.

Looking over the backfield, Venditti praised the work of quarterback Bob Mackall and said he should have a "great year."

Mackall, a 160-pound senior, is one of the top quarterbacks on the option play. With his speed, he is dangerous as both a runner and passer. He was the Potters' 100-yard dash man in track.

At present, Joe Thompson, a 150-pound junior, is working at the other halfback spot. Thompson is also a real threat with his speed. John Goodballet looks like the Potter fullback for this season. The 150-pound junior has been running well all through the early season drills.

DAVE ZELCH, who has been hampered by injuries, can be used at either halfback or fullback. Zelch should be ready for an all-out bid in a few days, Venditti said.

"Cookie Goodballet is a good replacement in the backfield and he will be seeing a lot of action this year. I'm also very satisfied with my quarterbacks, with Kenny Cunningham and Craig O'Neil backing up Mackall," Venditti said.

From the starting lineup Venditti plans to make only two substitutions on defense, for the center and for Roach.

Cunningham probably will spell Roach on the defensive team. Other boys who have caught Venditti's eye are Larry Crook and Joe Smith at guards. Bruce Reynolds, who hits close to the 240-pound mark, and Gary Anderson are capable replacements at tackle.

Venditti explained that he won't have to depend so much on sophomores for substitutions as was the case last year. Upperclassmen will be used more this season, he said.

The Potters open on Sept. 18 with Youngstown South at Patterson Field. On Sept. 11, the Potter fans can see the Blue and White in action against Leetonia in a preview here.

Following the opener with South, East Liverpool goes on the road for two games—Girard on Sept. 25 and New Philadelphia on Oct. 2. The next home game will be Oct. 9, with Bellare St. John's followed by Warren at home on Oct. 16 in what should be the "game of the year."

The Potters meet Struthers and Steubenville Central away on Oct. 23 and Oct. 31, respectively, then will be home Nov. 6 and Nov. 13 with Salem and Toronto.

The finale is scheduled a way with last year's state champs—Alliance—on Nov. 20.

Assisting Venditti again this season are Ray Peduzzi, Bob Hedmond and Nunzio Polichene.

Breaks Dizzy Dean's National League Mark

Dodgers' Koufax Fans 18 To Equal Bob Feller's Major League Record

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Since the turn of the century, only Bobby Feller ever had struck out 18 men in a nine-inning game.

And only two pitchers, Jack Coombs and Warren Spahn, ever struck out that many in a game that went extra innings.

Coombs did it twice, needing 24 innings the first time, then doing it again in 16. It took Spahn 15 innings.

Still, they were the only pitchers to do it—until Monday night. Then Sandy Koufax, a bonus lefty who has been a long time coming, matched Feller's major league record, turning back San Francisco 5-2 as Wally Moon's three-run, ninth-inning homer boosted the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers within one game of the National League leading Giants.

Feller's record, set by Cleveland's one-time blazing right-hander in a 4-1 loss to Detroit, had stood for 21 years.

While tying that spectacular strikeout performance, Koufax also set a National League record, bettering the 17 hung up by Dizzy Dean for St. Louis against Chicago's Cubs in 1933.

Koufax, a southpaw, also bettered the major league record for two consecutive games with a total of 31. He had fanned 13 in his last start against Philadelphia. Feller set the old record at 28, capping by his 18 in the final game of the 1938 season.

With Koufax (8-4) pitching his first complete game against the Giants since he signed a $200,000 bonus with the Dodgers in 1954, the Dodgers swept the last two games in the three-game series and now are only one game behind the Giants in the lost column.

It was the only game scheduled in the NL and also cut San Francisco's edge over third-place Milwaukee to 2½ games. Fourth-place Pittsburgh trails by 3½.

In the American League, Boston beat Washington 4-3 in 10 innings on Pete Runnels' home run. New York's game at Baltimore was rained out. No other games were scheduled.

Koufax, passed over by the Giants five years ago after a wild performance in a workout, also bettered his own major league record for a night game (16), set last June against the Phils.

He did it against a batting order overloaded with right-handed hitters—supposed to be poison for lefties. Rookie Willie McCovey who broke a 1-1 tie with a fifth-inning homer, was the only left-hander Koufax faced.

In all, Koufax gave up seven hits—with the Giants scoring in the first on doubles by Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda—and walked but two. He struck out every Giant at least once, getting Jackie Brandt and losing pitcher Jack Sanford three times each and fanned the side in the ninth to tie the record.

The Dodgers also managed seven hits, tying the Giants in the first on a walk, stolen base, passed ball and an infield out. They got even again in the eighth, when Moon walked, got to second on a sacrifice and scored on two wild pitches.

land's one-time blazing right-hander in a 4-1 loss to Detroit, had stood for 21 years.

While tying that spectacular strikeout performance, Koufax also set a National League record, bettering the 17 hung up by Dizzy Dean for St. Louis against Chicago's Cubs in 1933.

Koufax, a southpaw, also bettered the major league record for two consecutive games with a total of 31. He had fanned 13 in his last start against Philadelphia. Feller set the old record at 28, capping by his 18 in the final game of the 1938 season.

With Koufax (8-4) pitching his first complete game against the Giants since he signed a $200,000 bonus with the Dodgers in 1954, the Dodgers swept the last two games in the three-game series and now are only one game behind the Giants in the lost column.

It was the only game scheduled in the NL and also cut San Francisco's edge over third-place Milwaukee to 2½ games. Fourth-place Pittsburgh trails by 3½.

In the American League, Boston beat Washington 4-3 in 10 innings on Pete Runnels' home run. New York's game at Baltimore was rained out. No other games were scheduled.

Koufax, passed over by the Giants five years ago after a wild performance in a workout, also bettered his own major league record for a night game (16), set last June against the Phils.

He did it against a batting order overloaded with right-handed hitters—supposed to be poison for lefties. Rookie Willie McCovey who broke a 1-1 tie with a fifth-inning homer, was the only left-hander Koufax faced.

Cox's Ousted In ABC Event By Barborton

Cox Construction of East Liverpool bowed out of the American Baseball Congress tournament in Canton Monday night by losing to Barborton, 3-2, in a replay of Sunday's tie game.

The defeat was attributed to a "catcher's balk" charged by the head umpire who declared the Cox catcher stepped out of the box before the ball left the hand of pitcher John Laneve. The decision came after Barborton had loaded the bases in the seventh inning, with the winning run coming home unearned.

Righthander Phil Hewitt hurled six full innings for Manager Bob Campbell's Construction nine and had a six-hitter going before running into trouble in the seventh.

Hewitt was lifted in favor of Laneve after Barborton had loaded the bases on two straight singles and an error. In an attempt to thwart a squeeze play by Barborton, catcher Bob Campbell Jr., apparently stepped out of the box a moment too soon and the umpire declared that the runner on third could score—breaking a 2-2 tie and giving Barborton the important tournament victory.

Second baseman Butch Wilson plated the first Cox run in the first inning after smashing a leadoff double. A single by Jack Byers drove Wilson across the plate. Another Cox run crossed the plate in the fifth inning on two pitcher's balks and a single by Hewitt.

Byers with two singles and a walk led the Cox assault. Stan Franczek, the Cox hitting star in the drive for the City League pennant, grounded out twice, flied out and sacrificed.

The locals smashed seven hits, while Barborton finished with eight hits and played errorless ball. Barborton was to meet undefeated Warren after the Cox victory.

Milwaukee's front office doesn't expect Schoendienst to step in tonight against Philadelphia and cure the club's ills in the tight National League pennant drive.

All the third place Braves expect from Schoendienst is that his return might provide the spark the team needs to pull out of the doldrums as time runs out.

East Tech Cage Coach Quits; To Take Parma Post

CLEVELAND (AP) — John Broski has resigned as coach of Cleveland East Tech's two-time state Class AA high school basketball champions and will sign a contract soon as head coach at Parma High School.

He was given a release from his contract Monday by the Cleveland Board of Education. Dr. Michael Efron, East Tech principal, named Joe Howell to succeed him.

Broski will take over suburban Parma's entire high school and junior high basketball program beginning Sept. 9.

A graduate of Western Michigan University, Broski has been head coach at East Tech five years after serving a season as junior varsity coach. His last two teams won the state Class AA title and were undefeated with 51 straight victories. His overall record as a varsity coach at East Tech is 109 wins and 10 losses.

Howell's junior varsity teams at Tech have won three city titles. He is a graduate of Oberlin College.

Cary Middlecoff, who will team with Sam Snead to represent the United States in this year's International Golf Championship and Canada Cup Matches, will be playing in his first international event.

Diller Hanover Listed Favorite In Hambletonian

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — Diller Hanover, a bargain basement colt who became the odds-on choice for harness racing's richest race, tries in the Hambletonian Wednesday to average the only two losses put on his sterling record by 3-year-old opponents.

Diller, a $6,300 yearling, drew the No. 2 spot in the first heat of the tradition-rich trotting classic. Many railbirds feel that's all the advantage he needs to capture first money of $73,654.98. He's won nine of 12 heats this season.

Competitors include John A. Hanover, winner of the $56,398 Yonkers Futurity, and Tie Silk, coupled with Diller as Ralph Baldwin's entry. Both defeated Diller Hanover this season, neither by much.

Fifteen horses go in the Hambletonian, which carries a $125,283.98 gross purse to make it the richest of all harness races.

The front row—from the rail—will include The Lodger, Diller Hanover, Flight Son, Spike Hanover, Newport Dillon, John A. Hanover, Tartan Hanover, Circo, Algiers Eblis and Yankee King.

Behind them will be Lord Chutney, Lady Belvedere, Farand Hanover, Tie Silk and the hometown, sentimental choice, Rodney Pick. Lady Belvedere is the only filly in the race.

Yesterday's Stars
Pitching — Sandy Koufax, Dodgers, tied Bob Feller's major league record and bettered Dizzy Dean's National League mark by striking out 18 in 5-2 victory over the Giants.

Hitting—Wally Moon, Dodgers, walked and scored tying run in the eighth inning, then hit three-run homer in the ninth that beat the Giants 5-2 and cut their lead to one game.

It was a solid Australian victory and Harry Hopman's lads deserved to win. They whipped America's ace-in-the-hole, Olmedo. Even Hopman was inclined to concede two singles to Olmedo.

So no matter who the U.S. sends down under 16 months from now to try to regain the cup, the Aussies will be favored. Fraser will be around — he hasn't had any pro offers—and so will Rod Laver, the young lefty who has been improving by leaps and bounds.

"I won those last two sets from MacKay because my service was on and his was off," Fraser explained. "The day before when MacKay was clearly superior, Barry's service was on and mine was off. That was the difference and it could happen to anyone."

Fraser never has been too

A TV Columnist Eats Crow

Eating crow is not one of our favorite pastimes but it was necessary to partake of same after an interview was extended by the promoters of "Fibber McGee and Molly" to view the pilot film of the new version of the old show.

Marie Torre

Our presence at the screening was requested after we deprecatd, in print, the attempt to restore an old show charmer without the vital ingredients of the original — in "Fibber's" case, Jim and Marion Jordan.

Well, our musings were only partially valid.

The new "Fibber McGee and Molly" isn't like the old "Fibber McGee and Molly," no matter what NBC says about the format being "faithful to the original."

If it's faithful to anything, it is to the special skills of Bob Sweeney and Cathy Lewis, the new McGees, who bring a different brand of charm to the show.

THINGS ARE so different at Wistful Vista, as a matter of fact, that only the names are really the same.

Rather than retrieve old "Fibber" scripts from radio's closet, the creators have devised a droll and modern framework for the show and its refreshing simplicity might be just the thing for viewers seeking relief from the razzle-dazzle of multi-figured specials next season.

"I can't explain how it happens," says Sweeney, "but you know in advance when a show is going to be a hit. I feel it about this one. 'Very few people in the business have seen our show and yet they're talking about it everywhere. There is tremendous positive word about it, the sort of thing you couldn't buy with the biggest publicity campaign. Publicity can't make a show a success.'"

Sweeney has been on the brink of "discovery" so long that his small clutch of followers hopes his prognosis is correct.

"Success is always more precious when you have to work for it," philosophized Sweeney. "Or am I taking too much for granted?"

The first of four Phil Silvers specials on CBS next season will be "The Ballad of Louie the Louse," a musical comedy that will have six original songs by Nat Hiken and Gordon Jenkins. Mary Healy has been approached for one of the leads.

Held For Grand Jury

LISBON — Forest Rice, 50, of Columbiana R. D. 2 was bound over to the Columbiana County Grand Jury Monday by Juvenile Court Judge Louis Tobin on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minor boys. Rice was unable to make $3,000 bond and is in the County Jail.

Construction

Dip Reflected In Past Month

New construction came to a standstill in East Liverpool during August, with the exception of three garages, according to permits issued last month by Mayor Fred P. Lawrence's office.

Twenty-two permits were issued last month by the mayor's office but the total work authorized was estimated at only $14,070, down $6,380 from July's total of $20,450.

Besides the garage construction, the remaining 17 jobs called for remodeling and repair of homes. Two permits to tear down existing buildings also were issued.

The permits issued, the work authorized and the estimated cost:

C. H. McDaniel, to erect cement block garage at 170 Ravine St., $900;

Kenneth L. Baughman, to remodel home at 829 Louise St., $1,500;

Frouad Adkins, to replace flooring on porch at 913 May St., $120;

Addison Birch, to add room at 862 Baxter St., $800;

Fred Douth, to tear down 8-room dwelling at 816 Burford St., $400;

Joe Leonard, to tear down garage at 962 St. George St., $200;

Pat Presutti, to shingle home at 1924 Michigan Ave., $1,600;

Thomas Cook, to remodel home at 832 Chester Ave., $200;

Thomas Densmore, to build front porch at 1884 Lisbon St., $250;

Tony Frank, to remodel house at 517 Virginia Ave., $500;

Damon P. Smith, to erect garage at 721 Garner Ave., $500;

Norma Snowden, to repair porch and stairs at 1013 Avondale St., $200;

Orland Presutti, to finish second floor at 1917 Michigan Ave., $2,000;

Mrs. Ella Armstrong, to erect garage on Beechwood Ave., $700;

George McGaffie, to remodel house at 1913 Michigan Ave., $2,000;

Denzil Bowen, to rebuild porches of home on LaCroft Ave., $150;

Ruth A. Cooper, to rebuild porch at 1032 Dresden Ave., $75;

Harold Dopler, to erect new siding on home at 518 Palissey St., $1,000;

Raymond S. Buzzard, to build porch on home at 2759 St. Clair Ave., $1,000;

Harry Shaw, to add porch floor at 301 Washington St., $50;

Vaughn Rose, to repair garage at 1012 Ephraim St., $125.

Questionnaires Slated For Rural Proposals

LISBON — Columbiana County organizations concerned with rural living will soon receive two questionnaires from the County Agricultural Council.

One will ask "Do We Need Rural Zoning?" while the other will seek a solution to the problem of "too many meetings."

The questionnaires were discussed Monday at the council's meeting in the extension office here. Chairman R. R. Barber of Winona, presided.

Galen Greenisen, Salem, is chairman of the rural zoning committee. Mrs. Mildred Murray, Lisbon R. D. 4, heads the committee trying to find a way to consolidate meetings.

450 Traffic Deaths Seen Over Labor Day

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council estimated today that traffic accidents might kill 450 persons during next weekend's three-day Labor Day holiday.

The estimate, covering 78 hours from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday, is 30 higher than the actual toll for Labor Day weekend last year.

The Council said virtually all the 71 million motor vehicles in the United States are expected to be on the road, rolling up about seven billion miles of travel, during the weekend.

The Council urged upon motorists sobriety and obedience of traffic laws.

1,400 Extra Police Assigned

New York City Takes Step To Halt Teenage Gang War

NEW YORK (AP)—Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy has assigned 1,400 extra police to patrol duty from other jobs in an effort to stop the bloody teenage clashes that have claimed four lives in a week.

He announced the move Monday night, and at the same time released statistics showing a steady increase in youthful crime in the city.

The figures on arrests for people under 21 since the year began show 57 for murder or manslaughter and 197 for rape.

Four youths were charged with homicide in the latest outbreak, the fatal stabbing of two 16-year-old boys in a playground Sunday.

Police said the trouble started when an 18-year-old boy offered marijuana to the 39-year-old mother of another boy.

Kennedy's figures showed that more than 8,000 youths under 21 have been arrested for felonies in the city since Jan. 1. For those under 16, arrests were up almost 15 per cent over last year. For those from 16 to 20 the increase was more than 20 per cent.

Kennedy said the extra police will be on the streets in "trouble spots" during the danger hours from 6 p.m. to 2 a.m.

Police said Frenchy Cordero, 18, one of the four charged with homicide was walking along the street in Manhattan's West Side about a month ago when he saw Eleanor Diaz, 39, sitting on the steps outside a tenement.

She said Frenchy offered her some marijuana, and she refused.

Just then her son John, 18, came along, heard about the offer, and an argument developed. Diaz apparently got the better of the argument, and Cordero felt insulted. Cordero later rounded up some friends and went looking for Diaz. When they couldn't find him, they attacked eight other teen-agers. Robert Young and Anthony Krzesinski were stabbed to death.

Others arrested Monday on homicide charges in the case were Rogelio Soto, 17, like Cordero, a laborer; and Francisco Cruz and Nestor Hernandez, both 18 and factory workers.

Camera Club To Give Class In Photography

The Tri-State Camera Club will launch its second annual photographic course Thursday night at 8 on the second floor of the Ohio Power Co.

The course will cover all phases of photography in non-technical language with lectures, demonstrations and training films. It will be held every other Thursday.

The course is open to the public with the only requirement that those attending be members of the club. The club dues are 50 cents a month.

A contest featuring summer pictures, including color slides and black and white pictures, will be held. The entries are due the last of September.

A similar course was held last winter, starting in October and continuing through May.

24 More Police Aid To Probe In Bludgeon Death

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati police have put an extra squad of 24 men to work with detectives investigating the bludgeon death of Thomas J. O'Keefe, an insurance adjuster.

Investigators released three men Monday night after questioning them since Saturday. A fourth man was retained for further questioning.

Officers said they plan to widen their questioning to include known sex offenders, contractors who had men working in the building where O'Keefe was found and claims applicants who had worked with O'Keefe.

The body of the 59-year-old insurance man was found last Thursday in an office building washroom.

College Grid Squads Begin Fall Practice

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The process of picking the New Year's Day bowl contestants, national champion, All-Americas and the top professional football draft prospects begins today as colleges throughout the nation open fall football practice.

All the candidates were on hand to answer the official Sept. 1 call as set down by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. With the notable exception of the Ivy League, all had at least 20 days of spring practice.

This was seen as vitally important by coaches who promise to make the 1959 college season one that will have a host of changes brought on primarily by the success of the 1958 national champion Louisiana State and Army, the Lambert Trophy winner.

LSU's contribution is the three-plate system that features its two-way (White), offensive (Go) and defensive (Chinese Bandits) system. Wherever manpower permits this is being used by other schools.

Army's lonesome end is being re-enacted as part of the offensive shift to wide-open football that also is bringing back the double-wing attack with its variations.

Many of the 1958 stars, including All-Americans Bill Cannon of LSU, Jim Houston of Ohio State and Zeke Smith of Auburn will be out for the first day of practice.

Several new coaches also step into the limelight as the season is due to begin in three weeks for most of the Southeastern and Southwestern schools.

The independent Big Three of Army, Navy and Notre Dame all have new coaches. Dale Hall replaces Red Blaik, who resigned at West Point last January, and Wayne Harden is the new coach at Navy, taking over for Eddie Erdelatz, who quit in April.

Joe Kuharich is the man on the spot, as he takes over a Notre Dame team decimated by graduation losses, and soundly shaken by the controversy that followed Terry Brennan's firing last December.

Bump Elliot replaces Bennie Oosterbaan at Michigan, John Briders is at Baylor in place of Sam Boyd, Tom Nugent takes over at Maryland for Tommy Mont, Everett (Sonny) Grandelius replaces Dallas Ward at Colorado and John McLaughery is at Brown, succeeding Alva Kelley.

Jim Hickey guides North Carolina, after being named to the late Jim Tatum's job when a virus infection suddenly claimed Tatum's life in July.

Army, led by halfback Bob Anderson, is favored to give LSU the best battle as the nation's top team, with Ohio State, Auburn and Oklahoma close behind.

Shaker Heights Pro Leads Open With 68

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The action was on youth today as the Ohio Open golf championship swung into the second round.

The state's veteran teaching pros made little headway Monday in the opening 18 holes of the 72-hole medal play test over Toledo Country Club's 6,157-yard par 70 course.

Out front were a pair of 24-year-old assistant pros and on their heels were some of the best of the Buckeye newcomers.

Jimmy Powell, assistant pro at Shaker Heights, a recent import from Dallas, Tex., had a one stroke edge with a two-under par 68. Dick Howell, assistant at Lakewood, was a stroke back. Each was making his first start in the annual tourney.

Deadlocked at par 70 were three of the tournament's high-rated entrants. They were Bob Shave, of Cleveland, the 21-year-old who won the title a year ago as an amateur, then turned pro a week ago; Joe Kotlarczyk, 22-year-old Toledo Open champion from Fremont; and Val Chiaverini, of Swanton, three times state public links champion.

Mike Podolski, Columbus amateur and No. 1 man on Ohio State's team, was bracketed at 71.

Oklahoma Seen Sure Repeaters In Big 8 Grid

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Close to 500 labs report today to get ready for a Big Eight Conference football campaign that most likely will have the league's second best team winning an Orange Bowl berth.

The Oklahoma Sooners, perennial Big Eight champions, look like sure repeaters. But this season Oklahoma isn't eligible for any post season bowl, and second place will be good enough for the Jan. 1 Miami trip.

The Sooners will be shooting for their 12th consecutive Big Eight title—14th counting ties with Kansas in 1946 and '47.

The Sooners have lost a number of great performers such as All America center Bob Harrison and end Ross Coyle. But manpower remains plentiful in Soonerland.

At Missouri, Coach Dan Devine has a squad of about 60 loaded with good backs but hurting for experienced middle linemen. Veteran Phil Snowden is a capable quarterback.

Coach Jack Mitchell's Kansas Jayhawks, who started weak and finished strong last season, should be vastly improved. John Pepper, a versatile 202-pound senior, with Denny Carlton, of Urbana, and Russ Milne, 6-foot-6 inch, 150-pound pro from Toledo.

There was some grumbling among Monday's late starters, 18 of whom finished in almost complete darkness. The contestants wanted to delay completion of their rounds until today, but no tournament official could be located to authorize such action.

The unfavorable conditions cost most of those caught by darkness a few strokes. Art Todd, of Columbus, Ohio Public Links king, was among the victims as he lost three strokes on the last three holes and finished with a 73.

The field will be cut to the low 60 professionals and dozen amateurs after today's round and indications were that a score of 156—or 16 over par—would be good enough.

Among those on the ragged edge is veteran Billy Burke, of Cleveland, former state open champion. He won his greatest fame here in 1931 when he defeated George Von Elm in a 72-hole playoff, longest in tournament history, to take the National Open championship.

Burke, wearing his usual dress shirt and black tie, fired a 79 Monday, a score which was beaten one stroke by Prospero Gianvito, Tiffin professional who has only one arm.

U.S. Torrid Pan-Am Pace May Slacken

CHICAGO (AP)—The powerful United States' Pan-American Games squad, owning 26 of 30 gold medals in the entire show, may see its victory parade slacken a bit in today's semifinals round of track and field.

The West Indies Federation could put a slight dent in the U.S. monopoly on Soldier Field's red running strip tonight.

Three fine West Indies runners, headed by George Kerr, a Big Ten champion from the University of Illinois, are a threat in the 400-meter event. The other two are Mal Spence and Basil Ince.

Of the 12 gold medals won by U.S. track athletes, two each have been captured by sprinter Ray Norton, who Monday night matched the world record of 20.6 for the 200-meter around one turn, and Mrs. Earlene Brown, powerful Los Angeles housewife, who now owns the discus and shotput titles. Norton Saturday won the 100-meter dash.

One of the finest discus performances on any field was turned in by Olympic champion Al Oerter, whose meet record-shattering toss of 190-8 1/2 has been surpassed by only three other men.

Oerter, on all six of his tosses, broke the former Pan-Am record of 174-2 1/2 set by United States' Fortune Gordien, the man who holds the listed world record of 194-6.

In all, Uncle Sam's forces captured eight medals in Monday's competition which found the swimming program opening with 69 U.S. splashes grinding records to bits in four preliminaries.

The U.S. basketball team scored a record-breaking 114-46 victory over Cuba Monday night.

In boxing, the United States won three bouts, but had 132-pounder Harry Campbell eliminated by Argentina's Abel Laudonia and 147-pounder Dean Harrison stopped by Venezuela's Enrique Tovar. Argentina won four of five bouts.

Tough Rams Browns' Next Exhibition Foe

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The Cleveland Browns, losers of three pre-season games in a row, face another tough opponent Saturday night when they meet the Los Angeles Rams.

The Rams, expected to be the main challengers to the Baltimore Colts' bid to repeat as Western Division and National Football League champions, present a powerhouse offense.

Los Angeles, bolstered by the running of the great Ollie Matson, whipped the previously unbeaten Chicago Cardinals 34-21 last Saturday night. The Browns bowed 17-14 to the San Francisco 49ers Sunday.

Coach Paul Brown was somewhat optimistic despite a third straight loss, since he said he saw signs of the Browns "jelling" in the last half against the 49ers. He also has made up his mind that Milt Plum will be the quarterback, thus ending the experiment with Jim Ninowski piloting the team.

"Milt looked better under fire than he has in practice," said Brown. "I guess there is no short cut to experience."

Further optimism was in the strong showing of the Cleveland defensive line. Bob Gain will remain at end with Willie McClung and Sid Youngelman at tackles.

Buffalo Eyes Win To Capture First Flag In 10 Years

By The Associated Press

This could be the biggest night in the last 10 years for Buffalo if the Bisons can beat the Montreal Royals.

It would give the International League leaders their first pennant since Paul Richards turned the trick in 1949. Buffalo reduced its magic number to one Monday night with a 4-1 victory over the Royals.

Columbus, 7 1/2 games back in second place, plugged along doggedly with a 4-2 victory over Havana. A Columbus loss tonight is as good as a Buffalo victory for pennant-clinching purposes.

Miami defeated Richmond 5-3 and Toronto defeated Rochester 8-5 in other IL action Monday.

Columbus gained a game and a half hold on second place over the Cubans as Ron Blackburn (3-1) beat Raul Sanchez (11-5). Tom Burgess hit his 26th home run for the jets.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's football Buckeyes begin twice-a-day drills today in preparation for the upcoming season. Seven players who checked in Monday for physical exams, and who were named by Coach Woody Hayes to his tentative first team line, tipped the scales at an average weight of 231 1/2 pounds. That's 11 1/2 pounds over the average for last year's starting line. Much of the 1959 bulk is supplied by Birthe Arnold who weighed in at 302.

of East Liverpool, Ohio, shall be issued in the principal sum of $11,000.00 for the purpose aforesaid. Each of said bonds shall be in the denomination of $1,000.00. Said bonds shall be dated September 1, 1959, and shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed three percentum (3%) per annum, payable semi-annually on the first days of June and December of each and every year, provided that the first interest coupon shall be due and payable June 1, 1960, until the principal sum is paid, provided, however, that if said bonds are sold bearing a different rate of interest than hereinafter specified, such bonds shall bear such rate of interest as may be provided for in the Resolution of Council in the purchase of said bonds. Said bonds shall mature as follows:

Bond No. Amount Date of Maturity
1, 2 and 3 $3000.00 December 1, 1961
4, 5 and 6 $3000.00 December 1, 1962
7, 8 and 9 $3000.00 December 1, 1963
10 and 11 $2000.00 December 1, 1964

Said maturities shall be determined in to be in substantially equal annual installments.

The principal and interest of all bonds shall be payable at the office of the Treasurer of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio.

SECTION 3. That said bonds shall express upon their face the purpose for which they are issued; that they are issued in pursuance of this Ordinance and shall be signed by the Mayor and Auditor, and sealed with the corporate seal of said City. The interest coupons attached to said bonds shall bear the facsimile signature of the City Auditor. Said bonds shall bear such consecutive numbers from 1 to 11 inclusive.

SECTION 4. That for the purpose of providing the necessary funds to pay the interest on the foregoing issue of bonds, promptly when, and as the same falls due and also to provide a fund sufficient to discharge the said serial bonds at maturity, there shall be and is hereby levied on all taxable property in said City of East Liverpool, in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax annually levied on the period said bonds are to run in an amount sufficient to provide funds to pay interest upon said bonds and also to provide a fund for the discharge of the principal of said serial bonds at maturity, which tax shall be not less than the interest and sinking fund tax required by Section 11 of Article XII of the Constitution.

Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered computed, certified, levied and extended upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers, in the same manner and at the same time that taxes for general city purposes are collected and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in preference to all other taxes for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax levies hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which, together with all interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably deposited in the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, to the credit of the interest and principal of said bonds when and as the same fall due.

SECTION 5. That said bonds shall be offered at par and accrued interest to the Trustees of the Sinking Fund in their official capacity, and if said Trustees refuse to take any or all of said bonds, then said bonds not so taken shall be advertised for sale and sold in the manner provided by law under the direction of the Finance Committee and the Auditor, but not for less than their par value and accrued interest; the bond sale advertisement shall state that any one desiring to do so may present a bid or bids for such bonds based upon their bearing a different rate of interest than hereinafter fixed, provided, however, that where a fractional interest rate is bid, such fraction shall be one-quarter of one percent or less thereof; the amount of the bond or certified check to accompany bid shall be in the amount of one per cent of the amount of bonds bid; for the proceeds from the sale of said bonds, except the premium and accrued interest thereon and the amount of said bonds issued for interest aforesaid, shall be used for the purpose aforesaid, and for no other purpose.

SECTION 6. That there be and is hereby levied on all taxable property in said City of East Liverpool, in addition to all other taxes, a direct tax annually levied on the period said bonds are to run in an amount sufficient to provide funds to pay interest upon said bonds and also to provide a fund for the discharge of the principal of said serial bonds at maturity, which tax shall be not less than the interest and sinking fund tax required by Section 11 of Article XII of the Constitution.

Said tax shall be and is hereby ordered computed, certified, levied and extended upon the tax duplicate and collected by the same officers, in the same manner and at the same time that taxes for general city purposes are collected and collected. Said tax shall be placed before and in preference to all other taxes for the full amount thereof. The funds derived from said tax levies hereby required shall be placed in a separate and distinct fund, which, together with all interest collected on the same, shall be irrevocably deposited in the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, to the credit of the interest and principal of said bonds when and as the same fall due.

Idea Of Attendance Record Given Up

State Fair Heads Into Home Stretch

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio State Fair heads into the homestretch today with fair officials giving up the idea of setting any attendance records.

With four days left in the annual eight-day exposition, fair manager Rowland Bishop quietly backtracked from the opening day prediction of a record-breaking crowd.

The record, set during the 1956 fair, was 655,272. But this year, at the end of three days, the attendance was lagging some 60,000 behind figures for the same period three years ago.

Bishop blamed rain—especially Sunday's deluge—for part of the drop. Sunday's crowd was estimated at around 100,000, quite a bit below the 157,491 for the fair's Sunday in 1956.

Bishop didn't indicate what other factors might be responsible for the attendance lag.

He couldn't blame any part of it on the grandstand show attraction since both the record-breaking 1956 fair and the current exposition had the same featured performers—cowboy star Roy Rogers and company.

Rogers wound up his four-day stay Monday night.

One of the "big" problems at the fair this year has been the lack of free fishing for the youngsters. The fishing pond had plenty of water but no fish. Starting Wednesday, however, the kiddies can fish to their hearts' content.

Agriculture Director Robert Terhune, after several days of trying unsuccessfully to locate some piscatorial species, mopped his brow Monday and announced to the world:

"We've got the fish."

Terhune was seemingly as exhausted from his chore as the old man in Hemingway's "The Old Man and the Sea," who had a heck of a time just trying to land one fish.

It was the Cold Creek Fish Co. of Venice, Ohio, which finally came to the director's rescue. The company was to deliver 800 pounds of mixed fish to the fairgrounds today.

Terhune said the fish will be placed in the pond and given a day to get used to the new surroundings before being made fair game for the youngsters. Poles, lines, hooks, bait and fish are free for any youth under 14.

Terhune promised: "There will be kiddie fishing from the first day of the fair next year and I'm starting to work on it right now."

He explained its importance this way: "Some parents don't have a lot of money to spend at the fair. We want something for every member of the family, including the kids, even if they can't afford the rides and shows."

With cowboy Rogers gone, and a fireworks display taking his place in the grandstand the remaining four days, the fair spotlight beamed on the agriculture show.

The All-American Brown Futurity, the nation's top competition for brown Swiss breeders, was won Monday by John McKittrick of nearby Dublin. He took five of the first seven places in a field of 34 cows, including the No. 1 spot with his two-year-old Welcome In Charming Rose.

The victory was worth $1,218.75 to McKittrick, out of total prize money of $3,250.

The 2,000 Ohio Guernsey Futurity is on tap today.

The champion ram of the National Corriedale Show was a yearling owned by William Levis of Castralia. The champion ewe exhibited by H. W. Ferson of Rt. 2, Van Wert.

Among Junior Fair winners were James Hoffsis of Bucyrus, who showed the champion market lamb, and Judy Jacobs of Ridgeway, who brought the champion pen of three market lambs.

Other Junior Fair winners included Richard Goetz, a 17-year-old Dresden lad, who won four championships with his Angus beef breeder cows. He had the best summer yearlings, the grand champion female and won the FFA and 4-H Club showmanship awards.

John Ayars, 15, of Rt. 2, Mechanicsburg, walked away with both the grand and reserve FFA championships in the Guernsey cow class.

Elsewhere on the fairgrounds, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown's voting booth continue to show sentiment against abolishing capital punishment in Ohio. Fairgoers have piled up a 1,115 to 610 vote against removing the death penalty.

The $23,760 Ohio State Trot was Duke, owned by Byron D. Kuth of Cleveland. The calf took two of 2:05 1/2 two-year-old trotters going the mile.

Lineman Dies After Mishap

SUMMITVILLE — Funeral services for an electric lineman burned fatally last week on a job near here will be held at 2 p. m. today at the McVay Funeral Home in Caldwell.

Marion Khune, 32, of Pleasant City, near Cambridge, died at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in Mercy Hospital in Canton.

The creamman's spike slipped while he was on a pole and threw him into a 7,200-volt line, according to Carl Roubush, manager of Carroll Electric Co-operative.

Other crewmen released his belt and lowered him to the ground. He remained conscious despite second and third degree burns over 40 per cent of his body.

The victim was a 14-year employee of Wolfrey & Son Constructors of Columbus. The concern is doing rural electrification work for the Carroll co-operative.

Roubush said the accident occurred about 2 p. m. last Tuesday on the Eugene Bryan farm on the Summitville-Augusta Rd.

Mr. Khune leaves his widow and two children.

Bonnie Sanders Joins West Penn Staff Of Nurses

Miss Bonnie Sanders, daughter of Thomas E. Sanders, 1503 Pennsylvania Ave., and Mrs. Becky Tracy of Steubenville became a member of the nursing staff of West Penn Hospital in Pittsburgh today.

She was graduated from the hospital's School of Nursing Aug. 26. Commencement exercises were held in the Stephen Foster Memorial at 8 p. m. A reception for graduates and their guests followed.

Miss Sanders, a 1956 graduate of East Liverpool High School, was active in the hospital's extra-curricular program and was graduated in the upper third of her class.

Case Already Listed

LISBON — In the list of drivers who forfeited appearance bonds Sunday in Lisbon mayor's court, the name of Richard R. Moore, 19, Elkton, appeared in error.

The youth forfeited a $10 bond for reckless operation Aug. 4. The case was not docketed until Sunday and was reported again inadvertently.

Navy Men Await New Assignments

Preparing to go to new assignments, two East Liverpool men are spending 14-day leaves at home after completing recruit training at the Great Lakes (Ill.) Naval Training Station.

Seaman App. Robert Milne Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milne, 1729 Holliday St., will report to the Navy Receiving Station at Norfolk, Va., for transfer to the ammunition ship Wrangle, which has its home port in Naples, Italy.

Airman App. Robert Queen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Queen, 500 North Side Ave., will report to the Naval Training Center in Memphis for training as an aviation electronics technician.

The leaves of both men terminate Sept. 9. Both are 1959 graduates of East Liverpool High School.

Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep, for the first time since 1886, may be legally hunted in New Mexico.

Board Studies Bids To Level City Structure

Five bids for the demolition of a brick and frame structure on W. 6th St. opposite City Hall to clear the site for an off-street parking lot were taken under consideration Monday afternoon by the Board of Control.

Because Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross will be out of town until Wednesday or Thursday, no immediate action will be taken on the offers, ranging from $1 to $2,500, Mayor Fred P. Lawrence said.

The M. & S. Wrecking Co. of Youngstown submitted the bid of $1 for razing the two-story structure, with the provision that all salvageable material would become its property.

However, the firm's bid included a personal check for $50 rather than a certified check or cashier's check, as required in the legal advertisement.

The Christy-Williamson Wrecking Co., 128 W. 2nd St., asked $495 plus all useable building material. However, its bid did not include either a cashier's check or a bid bond.

Clyde E. Smith of Wyoming Ave. submitted an offer of $940, while Emmett L. Varian of R. D. 1 asked $1,200.

The high bid of $2,500 was turned in by the Crown Metal & Salvage Co., also of Youngstown.

The city acquired the property, which formerly housed Bennett's Grocery and the Instant Lunch, from Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Rapoport for $17,000.

Council approved the purchase early in July and appropriated $20,000 for the project. The $3,000 over the purchase price will be used to prepare the site, including leveling, grading and black-topping, before parking meters are installed to provide space for about 12 cars.

Boy, 16 In Car Theft Placed In Institution

LISBON — A 16-year-old boy on probation for auto theft from Warren County, N. Y., was sentenced Monday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for stealing a car Aug. 21 at Hanoverton.

The court ordered Lewis A. Butler of Hague, N. Y., taken to the Boys Industrial School after receiving word from Warren County officials that they had no money to return him.

Butler and Joseph Sealise, 26, Pittsburgh, were apprehended by Chief Deputy Sheriff James Miller shortly after the theft. They had driven only 10 miles in an auto taken from the A. J. Loudon used car lot.

Sealise was bound over to the Grand Jury and is in the County Jail in lieu of $1,000 bond.

Chris Pusey, juvenile investigation officer, took the boy to Lancaster today.

Judge 'Throws' Book At Traffic Violator

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — When police arrested Edward Taylor, 38, after an auto accident Saturday they found he had five warrants outstanding for driving without an operator's permit and others for speeding, passing a red light, and negligent collision.

In Saturday's accident he was charged with failure to stop and give information, negligent collision and operating without a valid license. For that Judge Abe Levy fined him $600 plus $1,050 for the previous offenses.

Killed In Wreck

Some Imaginary Conversation

Ike To Play Host Tonight At Fete For War Buddies

By COLIN FROST

LONDON (AP)—The smoke of good cigars wafts gently through the chandeliers above the dining table of London's Winfield House. The brandy passes, and the room hums with talk.

At the head of the table sits President Eisenhower. Around him are 23 of his British associates from the days of World War II.

That will be the scene tonight when the President gives a stag dinner for his wartime colleagues at the residence of U. S. Ambassador John Hay Whitney.

Since the war days, though, a number of books have been written and speeches made in which the old chums have given frank opinions about each other.

Some of the opinions have been highly critical. Tonight several of the critics meet their targets face to face.

The imaginary conversation that follows is constructed from the memoirs and other public statements.

Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery: "Ike and I were poles apart when it came to conduct of war. He thought we British weren't doing our share of the fighting and he said so."

Maj. Gen. Sir Francis de Guinand: (Monty's wartime chief of staff): "Why on earth do you keep saying how much you like Ike but still go on attacking him?"

Monty: "I sent him a Christmas card, much warmer than I sent anybody else, and he never acknowledged it."

Field Marshal Viscount Alanbrooke (chief of the imperial general staff when Eisenhower was supreme Allied commander): "Eisenhower had never even commanded a battalion in action. No wonder he was at a loss what to do."

Sir Winston Churchill: "Generals never had any ideas of their own. Whenever I raised ideas they raised nothing but objections."

Alanbrooke: "Winston sometimes thinks one thing one minute and another at the next. He is quite incorrigible and I am exhausted."

Alanbrooke: "He (Eisenhower) caused me great anxiety. I had little confidence in his ability to handle the situation."

Monty: "I could never understand why Ike could never understand my plan."

Eisenhower: "I've been criticized by everybody who can write a book."

Alanbrooke: "Yes, he (Montgomery) is a difficult mixture to handle. Brilliant commander in action but liable to untold errors due to lack of tact."

Monty: "I am awfully sad. If I have lost the friendship of that great good man it will be very distressing to me."

Eisenhower: "Why does he have to do it? Why can't he wait until we're all dead?"

Cumberland Woman And Weirton Man Wed

Mrs. Jane Mills of Chester St., New Cumberland, and Glenn Wilson Pyles of Main St., Weirton, were united in marriage Aug. 25 at the Free Methodist Church of Weirton Heights. The Rev. Milo Smith, pastor, and former pastor of the New Cumberland Methodist Church, officiated.

The bride wore a blue dress with white accessories and carried a white Bible topped with an orchid. Mrs. Ruby Hulderman of East Liverpool, sister of the bride, and John Mills, her son, were the attendants.

A reception for 35 was held at the home of Mrs. Hulderman. They will reside at 4081 Main St., Weirton.

How Can I

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. What can I do about some dents in one of my articles of furniture?

A. These dents can often be effectively raised with steam. Moisten the dent and the area around it with some warm water, then place a piece of dampened towel over the dent and apply a hot iron to the cloth directly over the dent.

Q. How can I make a good dentifrice?

A. Lemon juice is a good dentifrice. Dilute it with water and use as a mouth wash. It will make the mouth and teeth feel clean and wholesome.

Q. How can I remove mold from book bindings?

A. Rub leather book bindings, that have become moldy, with a soft cloth dampened with ammonia, and then wipe dry with a soft cloth or chamois.

Steel Figure Claimed

CELINA, Ohio (AP) — S. B. (Storm) Haarbye, 81, who devoted a half century to the steel industry in production, engineering and sales work, died Monday. He had been associated with Starmco, Inc., a steel products firm, from 1928 until his retirement in 1942. He was born in Oslo, Norway.

Space Expert Bares Firm's Rocket Plans

LONDON (AP)—Space scientist Darrell C. Romick of Canton, Ohio, says his company has been working nine years on plans to build a space rocket that would carry passengers 5,500 miles from London to Los Angeles in 40 minutes.

Romick, head of the astronautics section of Goodyear Aircraft Corp., is attending the 10th congress of the International Astronautical Federation which opened here today.

He disclosed that company scientists have evolved a three-stage rocket about 150 feet long with a compartment that could hold 25 passengers. It could be flying by 1975, he predicted.

The spaceliner would be shot space at 12,000 m.p.h., he said, and 400 miles from the take-off point its altitude would be 35 miles from the earth.

Then the two rocket boosters would be cut off and the spaceliner would glide toward its destination. When it slowed to 400 m.p.h., Romick said, turbojet engines would bring it down for a normal landing.

Passengers would be subjected to a pressure 6 1/2 times the force of gravity, he added, but they would not experience any more discomfort than some people felt when flying for the first time.

Drowns In Creek

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Margaret O'Flaherty, 55, a patient at Columbus State Hospital, apparently drowned in the shallow water of Dry Run Creek on the hospital grounds. Her body was found Monday. She had been reported missing Saturday night.

The world-famous Smithsonian Institution was established in 1846 by James Smithson, an Englishman.
